

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF

the People's University Extension Society

Eleventh Year, ending January 24th, 1909

Unusual Success

has attended the work of our Society during its eleventh year, which has just ended.

Our free classes were seriously crippled by the financial depression during the fore part of the year, many of our most generous supporters being forced to postpone their usual contributions.

During the autumn and early winter, however, our strenuous efforts to secure money met with more success, and we have closed the year with a substantial gain over last year, both in amount of contributions received and in free classes carried on.

▲ Most Encouraging Thing

the past year has been the fact that many of our subscribers have been so strongly impressed by the large amount of practical work accomplished with their money that they generously doubled and, in some instances, trebled their usual gifts.

Free Classes in Reformatories

have been carried on by this Society for many years with great success, and the appeals to us for help from such institutions have largely increased the past year.

No more practical and important work can be done than to give free manual and domestic training to the boys and girls in reformatories, that they may become trained workers and fitted for honest self-support.

One of the managers of the Wayside Home writes "I wish to tell you how more than delighted our girk are with your teachers. They are doing remarkably well. If you knew how the girls appreciate what is done for them you would feel that your kind help is not in vain."

Among the Reformatories

we have helped with free classes are:

Chinatown Rescue Settlement
Florence Crittenton Mission
Elizabeth Home for Girls
Home for Friendless Women and Girls
St. Zita's Home
Washington Square Girls' Home
Wayside Home
Doyers Street Mission

More Free Classes for Crippled Children

have been given by our Society the past year thar ever before, and the progress of the pupils, in view of their physical disabilities, has been remarkable.

Some of the children are so badly crippled that they are unable to get about without help, but they take a keen interest in handwork and make as good progress in many cases as more fortunate children

Our most important classes for crippled children are of course those in corrective physical exercises for the relief of their deformities and the strengthen ing and development of their bodies generally.

The oldest boy in one of our free classes in cor rective exercises for cripples learned so well how to go through with the movements that he acted as director of the class all summer, while the children were away from the city at a country home for cripples. This enabled the children to get the great benefit of continued physical exercise for the correction of their deformities.

A Very Badly Crippled Boy

ten years old, learned chair caning so quickly in one of our free classes that he soon hung out a sign at his street door for chairs to cane, and by the time he had received nine lessons he had caned four chairs on orders he had secured.

This successful beginning of a little business of his own delighted and encouraged him greatly.

The Most Interesting Subjects

among the crippled children have been:

Corrective Physical Exercises
Basket Making

Beconomic Cooking
Book Binding
Sewing
Shirt Waist Making

Dressmaking Elementary Carpentry

Embroidery Sloyd Work Weaving Chair Caning

Crippled and Blind Men and Women

from 60 to 80 years old have been interested members of some of our free manual training classes, and the work done by them has often been remarkably good.

One man of 60, ill with locomotor ataxia in an advanced form, was considered hopeless by the doctors. In the spring of 1908 he began work in one of our basketry classes. He did very poor work at first but soon improved. By the following winter he made unusually perfect baskets of difficult patterns for sale. He not only had gained much strength in his hands, but had improved in general physically so that he walked occasionally, which he could not do before.

The doctors attribute his improvement in health to his manual training, which brought into regular exercise unused muscles and gave him interesting occupation. There has been a noticeable improvement in the appearance of his hands, which showed the disease plainly before.

Free Classes for the Blind

have been much more successful than could have been expected when we realize the great handicap under which the blind pupils work.

Some of the articles made by members of these classes would be very creditable to pupils with perfect sight.

We have specimens of work in our office made by the blind that are wonderfully well done.

One scarf woven in colors on a hand loom by a blind man would do credit to a person with perfect sight.

It is a remarkable fact that the sense of touch is so highly developed in some blind persons that they can distinguish the difference in feeling between colored and uncolored strands.

Success with Mentally Defective Children

Our free manual training classes have continued to be very successful in arousing and stimulating the mind of mentally defective children, again demonstrating the fact that hand and brain are best developed together.

We have had more classes for these unfortunate children the past year than ever before.

MANY TRUANT AND PAROLED CHILDREN are members of our various classes in manual training, and our teachers report that they soon become interested and faithful pupils because work with the hands attracts them where ordinary schools subjects have failed to interest.

Our teachers always give special attention to the needs of truant and paroled children, and strive to awaken the best that is in them in view of the critical time in the lives of these neglected little waifs when we are able to take them in hand.

The Eagerness of Little Boys

to learn handwork was strikingly illustrated in . one of our elementary carpentry classes.

Several boys, too small to enter the regular class, would get into a corner with such scraps of wood as they could find and any tools they could get hold of and would try persistently to make something to show they were large enough to learn to work with tools.

One of the Most Valuable Lessons

pupils can learn in any kind of handwork is resourcefulness, or the art of doing good work with the smallest equipment of tools.

Aside from its value in making pupils ingenious and independent, the use of a minimum outfit brings down the cost of equiping a class so that poor settlement can start a course they otherwise could not have.

As a practical example we can take economic cooking. Some settlements make the mistake of getting elaborate cooking utensils for such work. This really discourages poor girls, because they cannot afford such expensive utensils at home and fear they cannot cook well without them.

Our teachers instruct a class of twelve pupils with an outfit that only costs about ten dollars.

We have cut down the expense of the outfit for Elementary Carpentry from about $100 to $6.

The Influence of Our Work

is constantly broadening in unexpected ways, as so much of it is initiative in its nature. We often start manual or domestic training classes in neglected tenement districts, where no such work has been done before, and carry them on until the little society for which we have been giving the classes succeeds in getting some persons of means to assume the expense or part of it and relieve us of that burden. As soon as the expense of such a class is taken from us we are able to start another somewhere else, and so continue the work of establishing centers for manual and domestic training where they are most needed.

In this way scores of very important and helpful industrial training classes carried on by various institutions in this city owe their existence to our having organized and carried on the classes until they had demonstrated their success in teaching self-help and drawing children away from the streets.

The Prevention of Deformities in Children

It is not generally known that deformities in children could usually be prevented if mothers had sufficient knowledge on the subject.

What they need is simple practical advice from a physician who is a specialist in this subject.

We have secured the services of such trained specialists who lecture for our Society at Mothers' Meetings, teaching the women in simple language how to care properly for babies and growing children and thus prevent deformities.

Most Diseases of Children are Caused by Improper Feeding

Our doctors begin the work of teaching ignorant mothers by making them understand this important fact.

There is a widespread belief that the instinct of a mother can be trusted to teach her how to care properly for her baby. Nothing could be much farther from the truth under the conditions of tenement life existing in this city.

A simple instance will illustrate the ignorance of mothers regarding such a fundamental question as the feeding of babies. If a baby cries, the average mother will feed it, in spite of the probability that the baby is crying because it has been overfed and is suffering from stomach-ache.

Our doctors make mothers understand how extremely small a baby's stomach is and how dangerous it is to overload it. When a baby is two weeks old its stomach only holds three tablespoonfuls of food. and the child is made uncomfortable and its health and life endangered by overfeeding.

Many mothers tell our doctors that before they were taught about proper food and care of health in our classes some of their family were always taking medicine, but now they say with pride they are able to get along without medicine, for they have learned "how to keep well."

The Prevention of Hot Weather Diseases

was again taught to more than fifty thousand mothers by our physicians last summer through lectures at Mothers' Meetings in the Public Schools, Health Homes and in Recreation Piers and Parks in the tenement districts.

All doctors agree that summer diseases of children are entirely preventable and are due to the ignorance and carelessness of the mothers in feeding babies and young children.

The number of mothers who ask questions of our doctors and who stay and talk with them after the lectures shows they are interested in learning how to keep their children healthy.

Teaching Economic Cooking

still continues to be one of the most important branches of our work with poor women and girls.

The importance of nourishing, properly cooked food is becoming more recognized yearly; poor food is one of the most potent causes of sickness and suffering and often leads to drunkenness and crime.

Our Trained Cooking Teachers

give systematic courses of lessons throughout the city to girls and women. Pupils are taught how to select food to get most nutriment for the money; to combine foods for all parts of the body; to meet the varied needs of growing children and hard working adults; to adapt the diet to the season of the year; how to cook food to bring out its full nutritive value; to make it easily digestible; to make it attractive and palatable.

"Large Meals for Little Money"

is the title of the little book on Economic Cooking prepared by Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson of our office, and published by our Society as a manual and syllabus for use by our teachers and pupils in elementary classes.

The book is so simple and practical that it has been highly praised by all who have used it. While the chemical studies of Prof. Atwater and other authorities have been used in arranging the dietaries so as to have well balanced meals of tissue building and energy producing foods, the language is simple and scientific terms are avoided.

Bills of fare are furnished for good palatable meals that should cost about 85 cents a day for a family of five persons.

Training in Cleanliness

which is one of the most crying needs of the tenement people, is one of the features quietly and tactfully but firmly insisted on by our teachers.

The little girls beginning to learn the various stitches in the sewing classes are taught that they cannot do their work neatly and well without clean hands and faces. Their condition is noticed when they come to each lesson, and if they fall far below the standard they are sent home to prepare themselves properly. After a short training of this kind there is a great gain in neatness and cleanliness.

The entire home life of these girls is soon benefited by the lessons of cleanliness learned in the classes. The little ones begin to insist on having things neater and cleaner at home. They often say, "My teacher wouldn't have things like this," and although parents sometimes object that the children are getting too particular, yet they gradually learn the lesson, for there is a charm in cleanliness that wins its own way when tried.

And thus the good multiplies and spreads in countless little ways that seem trifling enough and yet count for so much in the life of the people.

Physical Training Classes

designed to give healthful exercise to all the muscles and to correct bodily defects are of much greater importance than most persons realize.

Along with the great nervous tension of city school life goes a serious lack of opportunity for free and healthful exercise, that prevents the city child from gaining that physical development and vigor which is the birthright of childhood and upon which success in after-life in no small degree depends.

Our classes in physical training give special attention to exercises designed to correct bodily defects like unequal development, spinal curvature, etc.

As tenement children are specially subject to consumption owing to the crowded conditions in which they live, they are always given special exercises for strengthening and developing the lungs.

The High Character and Devotion

of our trained teachers and the powerful influence for good exerted by them over their classes deserve our heartiest recognition and appreciation. The personality of a teacher is of the highest importance. We have constantly sought those who not only know their subjects thoroughly, but who have that indefinable genius for teaching which inspires interest and enthusiasm in the pupils and arouses a love for doing things well that will influence their whole future lives.

We have now so large a force of exceptionally fine teachers that we receive a good many letters of enthusiastic appreciation for their unusual ability and success.

For example, one of the most experienced managers of charitable work for children, Mrs. L. J. P. Bishop, writes: "Your teachers are all superb in their work and we are very grateful for your generous help. We could not have these fine classes at all without your aid."

Miss E. B. Bowles, the efficient headworker of Warren Goddard House, writes: "Your teachers are all doing splendid work and we cannot thank you enough for your invaluable help. I don't believe your Society can fully realize the grand work it is doing in carrying on so many important classes for the uplifting of the people."

Our Leaflet of Health Hints

printed in English, German, Hebrew, Italian and Bohemian, contains the combined wisdom of more than a dozen experienced physicians of this city on the fundamentals of Hygiene and Sanitation, with special reference to the needs of the multitudes compelled to live in crowded tenements, where so many of the conditions naturally tend to produce disease.

Besides simple practical advice about the essentials of health, such as fresh air, cleanliness, proper food and cooking, and detailed instruction about the care and feeding of children, these leaflets contain, through the kindness of Prof. T. Mitchell Prudden, brief practical hints for the prevention of infectious diseases.

Copies of these health leaflets are supplied free of charge by this Society to all who apply, and they have been distributed to the number of more than two hundred thousand through the public schools of the city.

Our Classes at the Hebrew Educational Society of Brooklyn are worthy of special mention because, of the earnestness of the pupils, the large average attendance and the excellence of the work done.

The building of the Hebrew Educational Society is situated in the Brownsville district of Brooklyn, among a large and rapidly increasing population, where the need is great for such manual and domestic training as that given in the classes we are giving them.

The Unique Feature

of our educational work is that we carry the opportunity for free practical training in self-support, with all the hope and inspiration that interesting manual and domestic training classes involve, right into the rooms of the people themselves, by giving free lessons in their clubs, missions, churches and other societies wherever they are called for.

We thus make all these local societies active centers through which we teach the practical training most needed by the poor people in each locality.

All Races and All Creeds

English Negro Italian Russian Hebrew Hungarian German Austrian Irish Bohemian	Armenian French Spanish Swedish Norwegian	Portuguese Swiss Polish Greek Rumanian
---	---	--

Fifteen Young Ladies

under the leadership of Mrs. Florence I. Patterson, organized themselves into Auxiliary No. 1 to raise money to help carry on our free classes for poor children.

They worked for nearly three months in getting up a Fair and Musicale which netted $637.00 for this Society.

The names of the young ladies whose devoted and generous work helped the Society so much are as follows:

Miss Aurelia Beck	Miss Marie McDonald
Miss Gertrude Bryan	Miss Rosa Morgan
Miss Mildred Dockstader	Miss Dorothy Patterson
Miss Agnes Elkin	Marie L. Patterson
Miss Lucy Elkin	Miss Marie Pulling
Miss Dorothy Everett	Miss Fayetta Ridalock
Miss Katherine Hutton	Miss Marguerite Starkey
Mica Mc	ver Creemborn

Miss May Sutphen

The Map in Front of this Report

shows at a glance the wide distribution of our free classes throughout the crowded tenement districts of the city.

As Mr. Jacob A. Riis graphically expressed it: "The map looks as if it were dotted over with smallpox; but the dots do not tell of disease, but of a healthy human effort to work up and out of the slough; for where everyone of them is you will find a teacher has been employed by the People's University Extension Society—a trained teacher from Pratt Institute, Teachers' College, or some similar institution—giving free lessons in sewing, in dressmaking, in economic cooking, in manual training, in a dozen things that train eye and hand and mind at the same time, and are of instant practical benefit to the learner besides."

The Need of an Endowment

An endowment fund is needed to place our Society upon an assured footing, where it will be in a position not only to continue the important work it has been doing, but to extend its free classes in response to urgent appeals that are received from all parts of the city.

Our good friend Mr. Jacob A. Riis, who has known intimately about the value and success of our classes for many years, was asked by a business man whether he considered our Society worthy of a contribution. Mr. Riis wrote in reply: "I do not know of any better work anywhere. It ought to have an endowment of a million dollars."

Money is Required

to send trained teachers of manual and domestic training in response to earnest appeals from settlements, missions and other poor societies that need our help in all parts of the city.

In many cases the only experienced teachers such societies can get are those we give them, as they lack money to employ trained assistants.

Supported by Voluntary Contributions

The work of this Society is supported by voluntary contributions, and gifts of any amount will be appreciated.

Twenty-five dollars supports free lessons for a dozen children for three months. One hundred dollars for an entire year.

Checks to aid the work should be drawn to the order of this Society and be mailed to the Secretary and Treasurer, J. Eugene Whitney, 105 East 17th Street, New York City.

THE ELOQUENCE OF RESULTS.

Expressions of appreciation from some of those we have helped the past year.

New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children, 141 West 61st Street.

"We are very grateful to you for the free classes you are giving us in corrective physical training.

"Our children are greatly benefitted by the classes."

Mary J. Oliver, Matron.

Hebrew Educational Society, Pitkin Avenue and Watkins Street, Brooklyn.

"Many thanks for your kind assurance that the valuable and helpful co-operation of your Society in our work will be continued. I assure you under existing financial conditions, this assurance means a great deal to the Hebrew Educational Society, as our manual training classes could not continue without your help"

Milton Reizenstein, Supt.

New York City Visiting Committee of State Charities Aid Association, Homer Folks, President.

"The work done by the People's University Extension Society in connection with the clubs for employees at Bellevue Hospital, proved a very valuable assistance in organizing those clubs, and I hope we may be able to take advantage of your help in connection with other public charitable institutions."

Darrach Home for Crippled Children, 118 West 104th Street, Mrs. C. S. Howard.

"We thank you most heartily for the splendid aid you have furnished us by giving us such efficient teachers of corrective exercises, etc.

"One of our crippled boys profited so by the lessons of your cobbling teachers last year, that he is now working for a shoemaker and is doing well."

Elizabeth Home for Girls (Girls' Reformatory), 307 East 12th Street, Mrs. E. S. Hurley, Matron.

"Many thanks for your kindness in sending us a free cooking teacher in response to my request. We are grateful for your generous help. The lessons are of great value to these poor girls."

The "Little Mothers" Aid Association, 236 Second Avenue, Mrs. Clarence Burns, President.

"Just a word of personal appreciation and thanks for all you have done for us by sending us teachers who have made it possible for us to teach a larger number of children, and to give the benefit of trained teaching which means so much in uplifting the growing girls of to-day. I consider your Society one of the most useful and helpful in the city."

Warren Goddard House, 246 East 34th Street, Miss E. B. Bowles. Headworker.

"Your teachers are doing splendid work for us here, and we cannot thank you enough for your invaluable help. I don't believe your Society can fully realize the grand work it is doing in carrying on so many important classes through the city for the uplifting of the people."

Children's Aid Society, 105 East 22nd Street, W. L. Grosvenor, Assistant Superintendent.

"We appreciate the work your teachers are doing in our schools, and there is no question about the excellent quality of that work. We thank you for your many kindnesses."

Salvation Army Kindergarten, 94 Cherry Street, Nellie T. Davis.

"I wish to thank you for sending your Doctor to speak at our Mothers' Meeting, last Thursday afternoon, in the Italian language.

"All who were present seemed very much interested and I am sure will be helped by his talk."

Children's Neighborhood Home, 213 East 123rd Street, Mrs. L. J. P. Bishop.

"Your teachers are superb in their work and we are very grateful for your generous help. We could not have the classes at all without your aid."

"I wish to tell you how more than delighted we all are, with your teacher and her work in physical culture with the girls. They are doing remarkably well, and they are so interested in both this work and in their sewing.

"You thought we might have those lectures in 'First Aid to the Injured.' I don't want to seem grasping, but if you could see how the girls appreciate what is done for them, you would feel that at least your efforts are not in vain.' Miss Isabel D. Blake.

The Charity Organization Society, Corlears District, 127 Chrystie Street, Miss A. M. Decker.

"We thank you very much for the fine sewing teacher you have given us, and also for the three lectures by your doctor. The meetings have been very successful and well attended."

West Side Branch, Y. W. C. A., 460 West 44th Street, Miss Anna White.

"Allow me again to thank you, both for the committee and on my own account, for the faithful teachers and splendid lecturers you have so kindly sent us. They have been of real and practical help to our girls and mothers. May your good work go on and prosper greatly."

All Souls Mission Sewing School, 248 East 34th Street, Mrs. Thomas R. Slicer, President.

"I thank you for the services rendered our sewing school by the People's University Extension Society. It enables us to extend our work in a way that would be impossible without it."

The Home Garden Children's Settlement, 405 East 116th Street.

"Great praise and credit are due your teacher for her devotion and success and the excellent work done by our girls under her skillful direction.

"We thank you for your kind aid in our work and hope you can help us next season." Adrietta Guyon.

New York Kindergarten Association, 524 West 42nd Street.

"We thank you heartily for your gift of one thousand copies of your 'Health Hints' leaflets. They will be distributed to the teachers of our Kindergartens to-morrow and I am sure will do great good."

Mary H. Waterman, Supt.

Goodwill Club, 41 Tompkins Place, Brooklyn.

"We thank your Society most warmly for assisting us in our work which has been so successful and popular.

"We owe a great deal to your teacher for the enthusiasm and ability which have characterized her teaching, and for the beautiful spirit which endears her to all the members of her class."

Isabella F. Cummings.

Spring Street Neighborhood House, 244 Spring Street, Rev. .
Roswell Bates.

"We thank you for your generous assistance in our work. We are in such financial straits we could not carry on the manual training classes without your aid."

The League for Home Economics, 41 LeRoy Street, Mrs Floyd S. Corbin.

"The Board of Directors of the League for Home Economics wish me to express to you their sincere thanks for your kindness in sharing the expenses of our classes at 41 LeRoy Street.

"This has doubled a work which has been of value to many, and encourages us in our undertaking."

Church of the Holy Apostles, 360 West 28th Street.

"I wish to tell you at this time, how greatly we value the assistance that the People's University Extension Society has given. Without that assistance, we could not have maintained our cooking classes and kitchen garden work, and I feel that such courses of instruction are of the greatest benefit to the children living in this very poor section of New York."

Rev. Appleton Grannis.

Gerald Memorial Kindergarten, 209 Concord Street, Brooklyn. Miss Amos Reports:

"In every home I visit I find the beneficial effects of your teachers and lecturers. We appreciate your generous help greatly."

Acorn Club of Girls, Brooklyn.

"We feel grateful for the cooking class and thank you for your kind assistance. Without your aid we certainly would not have been able to carry on our class."

Help to Self-Help for the People.

OF NEW YORK

Twelfth Year, ending January 24th, 1910

Our Most Successful Year

Our twelfth year, just ended, has been the most successful in the history of this Society.

We have carried on a larger number of specially important classes than ever before in the same length of time, and this has been made possible because more persons have become interested in our work and have been willing to contribute to help support it.

Our Work is Purely Co-operative,

all our classes being carried on in the rooms of other societies who have the pupils needing the instruction, but who lack funds to secure the necessary trained teachers without our assistance.

We help societies of all kinds in the city by sending experienced and successful teachers to give lessons in any branch of manual or domestic training, provided our help is needed, and we have the necessary funds for the purpose.

Every society asking our help pays all the expense for rent, heating, lighting, and care of rooms where our classes are held, and also pays for equipment and materials used in the classes.

All that our Society is asked to do is to co-operate by furnishing a trained teacher to conduct the classes, and we are therefore able to carry on a large number of classes with a small amount of money.

The Work of Our Society

consists mainly of the following large departments: First, Training tenement mothers in the essentials of hygiene and sanitation, the care of children and the prevention of disease, including Tuberculosis and other infectious diseases.

Second, Teaching all branches of manual training to poor children of all races, thus starting them in the way of honorable self-support.

Fourth, Special Classes, for Crippled Children, Blind,

Deaf and Dumb, and mentally defective pupils.

The List of Subjects Taught

by our teachers during the year is given below. The details of classes given throughout the different Boroughs of the city will be found in the body of this report.

Our Corrective Physical Training Classes

for crippled children are of great importance, because bodily defects can be partially and often entirely cured by systematic physical exercises under the direction of a trained instructor.

Young crippled children in our free classes have sometimes improved so much after a short course of training in corrective movements that they could leave off the mechanical braces they were previously obliged to wear.

It is Important to Begin corrective physical training as early as possible while the bones are still flexible and yield readily to treatment.

Wise exercises gently but regularly and frequently performed quickly deepen the breathing, add vigor and tone to the system, strengthening the circulation and building up all weak parts of the body.

During the year eight hundred and twenty-eight lessons in corrective exercises were given to a total enrollment of more than seven hundred crippled children.

Corrective exercises necessarily vary so much to suit the special needs of each pupil that only a few children can be handled in a class. While our classes in ordinary physical training contain 25 to 75 pupils, special classes for cripples have only 8 to 12 members usually.

Classes for Cripples in Hospitals

The most important new thing accomplished by our Society during the year has been securing the co-operation of the physicians in the Orthopædic Department of several of the prominent hospitals of the city.

With the approval of the orthopædic surgeons in charge we have had in successful operation fourteen classes in corrective exercises for crippled children in the following hospitals, under the care of our Instructor of Corrective Physical Training, Mr. Henry Steigner:

3 classes in Vanderbilt Clinic of College of Physicians and Surgeons

" " the German Hospital

" " the German Polyclinic Hospital

" " Harlem Hospital

class " Post Graduate Hospital

" " Lincoln Hospital

At the Vanderbilt Clinic

although our classes in corrective physical exercises have only been in operation a few weeks, Dr. Linsly R. Williams writes that our instructor "is doing excellent work with physically defective children. The patients he has treated have been very much benefited."

In the case of a crippled boy at Vanderbilt Clinic remarkable gains were made throughout when he was re-measured after five weeks' work.

At the German Hospital

where we have four classes in corrective exercises, the Superintendent, Dr. Louis Kortum, writes: "It gives me pleasure to state that the corrective physical training classes are developing into successful work, which will assist materially to improve the health of many unfortunate children and build up those who are weak in body.

"The classes have made splendid progress, and in some cases the result has been surprisingly good. This latter opinion is a statement made by Dr. Jaeger, in charge of our Orthopædic Department.

in the condition of the crippled children at Ballard School for Cripples and Mental Defectives, writes Dr.

C. M. Ballard, as the result of a short course of corrective exercises by our instructor.

Dr. Ballard writes us, "The value of Corrective Physical Exercises for physically defective children as given by your teacher is far greater than we can possibly estimate at the present time."

Handwork for Crippled Children

is of great importance, because it furnishes them interesting occupation that prevents their minds from dwelling on their condition, and it gives pleasant physical exercise that helps to strengthen their bodies, while at the same time they are getting elementary training in handicrafts that will help them to become self-supporting if necessary.

Special Classes for the Blind

have been more varied than usual, and have been remarkably successful during the year.

We have a very interesting class in Cooking for blind girls, which is proving much more successful than our teacher expected when she began the experiment.

A large class of blind girls are finding great pleasure in a class we are giving them in physical training and dancing.

Most of our classes for the blind are in simple forms of handwork, such as basket making, sewing, knitting, bead work, weaving and rug making.

One old blind woman, who is very happy to have been taught pleasant handwork to occupy her time, said to our teacher: "I think you are the one I have been looking for ever since I got to be blind."

Fifteen hundred lessons were given to the blind in the following kinds of handwork:

Basketry Bead Work Chair Caning Cooking Knitting Physical Training Rug Braiding Rug Weaving Sewing

Our Classes for Mentally Defective Children

have increased in number the past year, and have been successful in stimulating the brains as well as training the hands of these unfortunate children.

In most cases the mental improvement is very marked after a few months' training in some interesting form of handwork.

One boy has become so much brighter mentally after a short term of manual training lessons that the teacher thinks he can enter a regular public school, which he has hitherto been too sluggish mentally to do.

Seven hundred and eighty lessons were given to mentally defective children in the following list of subjects:

Basketry Painting
Bent Iron Paper Work
Carpentry Raffia
Chair Caning Sewing
Drawing Sloyd
Dressmaking Weaving

Our Reformatory Classes

have been more numerous and successful than in any previous year, and no branch of our work is more satisfactory or encouraging.

Our teachers for these very important classes are selected with special reference to their ability to inspire and maintain enthusiasm and win the respect and confidence of their pupils.

We have had successful classes during the year at the following places doing reformatory work:

Chinatown Rescue Settlement Elizabeth Home for Girls Florence Crittenton Mission Home for Friendless Women and Girls House of Mercy New York Magdalen Asylum Washington Square Girls' Home Waverly House Wayside Home for Women and Girls

Our Free Classes for Aged People

often contain pupils from 75 to 85 years of age, and the interest and pleasure of these old people in learning to do simple forms of handwork to occupy their time and earn a little money are sometimes very pathetic.

We have many excellent specimens of hand woven rugs and baskets made by aged men and women, most of whom are crippled or blind. We invite any one interested in the subject to call at our office and see the exhibition of articles made in our classes.

Carpentry Classes

have been in great demand the past year, and we have given one hundred and seventeen courses of 1,404 lessons in this practical subject to an enrollment of 1.755 pupils and a total attendance of more than fourteen thousand.

No subject is more interesting to boys or of more practical value, as it gives a general practical training in the skillful use of the hands that fits the pupil to take up advanced carpentry and cabinetmaking, and will make him a more efficient workman in any form of handicraft he may undertake.

The natural delight of the small boy in making things is seen constantly in our elementary carpentry classes, and the boys are so strongly interested in their work that the teachers often have a hard time to get them to stop work when the bell rings for closing the class.

Many boys who are notably stupid in their studies show a marked inclination for manual training, and quickly become very good workmen.

More Classes for Colored People have been carried on by our Society than ever before, in response to increased calls for such help.

Our teachers find colored children as interested and eager to learn as most white pupils, and their progress has been uniformly satisfactory. In some classes they have surprised our teachers by the excellence of their work.

The principal subjects taught in our classes for colored people are:

Cooking Sewing Dressmaking Millinery Embroidery Housekeeping Carpentry Chair Caning Basketry Cobbling Physical Training

The eagerness of colored girls to learn dressmaking is proved by the fact that in several instances our teachers have to handle the problem of teaching 28 to 30 girls to make dresses at the same time in a single class. This is double the usual number of pupils for a class, but we have teachers with the executive ability to handle such a large class efficiently.

An Important Class for Negroes

has just been started in response to an urgent request to furnish an attractive free class in Physical Training that may help to keep a large group of wild young West Indian Negroes from drifting into the ranks of criminals.

These young men present a difficult problem, as they live in "Hell's Kitchen" district, where the influence of the environment is demoralizing, and they are so wild and restless in disposition that they will not yet settle down to manual training work as American Negroes readily do.

For this special class we have sent a teacher who is a man trained in military drill and also all branches of gymnastics, fencing, broadsword and single-stick, as well as basket ball. He will make it a point to give them sharp, lively exercises, with an abundance of military drill that will tend to train them in strict discipline, which is the one thing they most need in their present condition. As soon as possible we shall get them started in regular manual training work.

Unusual Interest in Basketry

has been shown the past year, 129 classes having been called for, comprising 1,548 lessons, with an enrollment of 1,935 and a total attendance of more than eighteen thousand.

The work done in these classes has often been surprisingly good, and many of the pupils have made baskets for sale which have brought good prices.

One Poor Little Cripple

of twelve attended a basketry class, although his hands were almost useless. He watched the progress of the other children with admiring and longing eyes, but his own stiff little fingers failed to accomplish much for some time. Our teacher took special pains to encourage his efforts, and one night, to her great delight, he got nicely started on a basket and finally completed it. It was so well made she could hardly believe it was all his own work, but on inquiry he told her he had been practicing weaving every night at home, and had gradually gained such control of his deformed hands that he became one of her very best workers.

Classes in Economic Cooking

have been more called for than usual, and the attendance has been large and enthusiastic.

One hundred and sixty-four courses of 1,968 lessons in cooking have been given, with an enrollment of 2,460 and a total attendance of more than twenty-one thousand five hundred.

The girls are taught to select the kinds of food that give the most nutriment for the money, and to cook it in the most appetizing way so that it may be easily and perfectly digested.

As a neat, attractive table adds to the pleasure of a meal and increases the appetite, thus stimulating the flow of the gastric juices and aiding digestion, our teachers make it a point to instruct the girls in the art of attractive table setting and serving of meals.

A girl in one of our cooking classes says her father is so much pleased with the way she can now cook that he says she need not go to work in a box factory as planned, but may go to high school and learn to be a cooking teacher.

"Large Meals for Little Money,"

the little book on Economic Cooking prepared by Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson of our office, primarily for use of our cooking classes, has been so widely appreciated and called for that the first edition was exhausted and it has been necessary to publish a new edition.

The aim of this little book is to give in simple language some of the results of the work of leading scientific authorities regarding the necessary proportion of tissue building and energy producing elements in foods.

Bills of fare are furnished for nutritious and palatable meals that should cost about 85 cents a day for a family of 5 persons.

The President and Secretary of this Society ate all of the meals when the recipes were being tried out, and can testify as to their satisfactory character when they are properly cooked.

This little book is furnished to classes at 5 cents each, the cost of publication, and is sold to the general public at 10 cents each.

Kosher Cooking Classes

have been more called for than in any previous year. As the requirements of Jewish dietary laws are very different from ordinary methods and must be strictly followed in cooking classes for Jewish children, we have had no little difficulty securing suitable teachers who understand Kosher cooking.

Two Hundred and Six Public Schools

in the different Boroughs of the City have been helped by our Society with free lectures on Hygiene and Sanitation for the benefit of their Mothers' Meetings, since our work began.

Many of these meetings are large, the audiences sometimes numbering as many as 500 mothers, and the value of giving them simple practical instruction on the following subjects is very great:

Care of Children Fresh Air, Cleanliness and Exercise Care of Eyes, Ears, Skin and Teeth Prevention of Children's Diseases Home Nursing Care of Children in Winter Prevention of Hot Weather Diseases Prevention of Tuberculosis and other Contagious Diseases First Aid in Common Accidents Food and Cooking for Health and Economy Fireless Cooking Care and Feeding of Babies Care of the Home Economical Housekeeping Prevention of Deformities in Children The Mother as Teacher

Hot Weather Relief Work

is carried on extensively by this Society every year by means of simple practical lectures to Mothers' Meetings on the Prevention of Hot Weather Diseases of Children, especially the babies, who die in such large numbers from purely preventable summer diseases due to improper feeding.

These Mothers' Meetings are held in schools, churches of all creeds, settlements, kindergartens, and the rooms of any societies that will gather the mothers of their neighborhood together so that our physicians can talk to them.

The essentials of hygiene and sanitation are explained to them in the simplest language, and they are made to understand how to keep themselves and their children healthy.

The Value of Mothers' Meetings

can hardly be overestimated, and one of the most important and far reaching results of the twelve years' work of this Society has been our success in getting scores of other societies interested to organize meetings of the mothers of their neighborhood, and to carry on a systematic plan of practical training in home-making and the care of children with our co-operation.

Our Leaflet of Health Hints

which we have distributed gratuitously to the number of more than eight hundred thousand copies in five languages, has been highly commended by physicians and health officers in a number of states.

Miss Miriam Birdseye, a teacher of cooking at Simmons College, Boston, has used this leaflet of ours as a text book for students, having them pasted into their note books.

One person in writing for more copies says, "We have found it so important that we wish to frame it and hang it up on the wall."

All the Branch Libraries

of the New York City Library, 36 in number, were supplied free copies of these Health Hints for general distribution.

Courses on First Aid to the Injured

We wish to express our appreciation of the valuable co-operation of the New York Society for Instruction in First Aid to the Injured.

We should have had great difficulty in giving so many systematic courses of lectures on First Aid without the kind help of the above named society.

Our New Manual of Coarse Sewing,

which has just been published by the generous help of one of our contributors, Mrs. R. T. Auchmuty, explains in detail our coarse sewing system, which is an important improvement over the old sewing system of fine stitches for little children.

It is a physiological fact, only recently recognized by physicians and the heads of training schools for teachers, that girls under eight years of age should not be required to make small stitches with fine needle and fine thread on closely woven cloth.

Our system of coarse sewing for young girls, which was developed by our assistant, Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson, has proved entirely successful in class work. It arouses the interest of the little girls from the start, because it consists of an attractive sewing outfit of real articles, comprising work bag, button bag, needle case and pin cushion, all for the child's own use. In making this set the child learns all the principal kinds of stitch, but they are made with coarse needles and sewing floss on coarse material, so as to avoid straining the eyes and injuring the nerves.

Dressmaking Classes

have been extensively called for and have been unusually successful.

138 classes in dressmaking and garment making were carried on during the year, with an enrollment of 2070 and a total attendance of over nineteen thousand.

Many girls become so proficient in these classes that they are able to secure positions at good pay after a single course of lessons.

One girl in our dressmaking class at Five Points Mission wanted to make a nice skirt, but the only material she had was five small pieces of the same kind of figured cloth. Our teacher cheered her by telling her that the skirt could be made out of the remnants and by carefully matching and fitting the pieces together the girl finally made a very pretty and creditable garment.

The Ideal Plan of Work

for all societies that are carrying on classes in manual and domestic training is to arrange their work in an educational sequence, so that the children may develop skill and efficiency in whatever they do.

While they cannot usually maintain regular trade schools, they may in a measure work towards the same end by co-ordinating their work with such a purpose in mind.

For example, it is often possible to carry the girls along from elementary sewing to garment making and practical dressmaking, embroidery, millinery and economic cooking, so that the girls become accomplished housekeepers, and are also fitted to get positions at good wages if they have to go out to work.

The Genius for Teaching

which every fine teacher possesses is unfortunately something that no training however thorough can impart.

It happens, therefore, that some of the best teachers are simply graduates of the school of experience, who have never had the benefit of instruction in a training institution, but who possess that supreme quality of the born teacher—the power to inspire and maintain interest and enthusiasm in their classes.

As our classes are all voluntary, it requires much higher qualities in a teacher to secure regular attendance of the pupils than is the case in ordinary school classes, where attendance is compulsory.

We are fortunate in having been able to secure so large a number of exceptionally competent and successful teachers in all branches of manual and domestic training.

We take pleasure in expressing our appreciation of the ability and devotion of our teachers, and the powerful refining and elevating influence they exert over even the most unpromising pupils.

The Great Thing in Teaching Children

is not to stand over a few pupils and by constant personal direction teach them to do good work, but to inspire in the largest possible group of children a keen interest in their subject and a strong desire to do the best work they possibly can.

Too close supervision by the teacher tends to destroy independence and originality in the pupils, qualities that it should be the aim of good teaching to cultivate in every possible manner.

We are all apt to forget that the greatest good to the child is obtained, not by slavishly copying the work of 4 W.

others, but by using his own mind, and developing ingenuity, resourcefulness and independence of character in meeting and overcoming difficulties.

A capital illustration of the method of a wise teacher is afforded by an incident in one of our classes in elementary woodwork. A little mulatto boy of seven years had cut out a picture frame from a piece of thin wood, when, to his dismay, he dropped it on the floor and it broke into three pieces. The teacher saw what had happened, but paid no attention and offered no advice, waiting to see what the little fellow would do. The boy gathered up the fragments and studied them a moment in silence. Then he decided that he knew what to do, and without asking the teacher for help of any kind he went ahead, and joined the broken pieces by nailing small cleats on the back, and finally, to the teacher's delight, he finished up the frame with glass and picture complete. At the next lesson he decorated the frame by burning the wood neatly, and it now hangs in our office as one of the most interesting examples of what a little fellow can do when he is wisely permitted to work out a problem through his own efforts.

The Best Outfit

for any elementary manual training class is the smallest and simplest collection of tools that will enable the pupils to do efficient work, and such outfits are cheap.

It has been thought by many heads of societies that they could not possibly give their children the benefit of manual training because the outfit of tools and materials was too expensive.

This mistake has sometimes been made by highly trained teachers themselves, who thought, because they were accustomed to working with an elaborate and expensive outfit, that good work could not be done without such an equipment.

On One Occasion

a class in elementary carpentry was wanted by a poor settlement that had no outfit for the work and hardly any money to buy one with.

The Secretary of this Society assured the headworker of the settlement that a class of 12 boys could be provided with the absolutely essential tools for making a variety of simple interesting articles, like match boxes, pencil trays and boxes, glove and hand-kerchief boxes, whisk broom holders, letter racks, paper cutters, small shelves, frames, etc., for an expense of six or seven dollars, and wood to work with could be had in the shape of boxes from the nearest grocery for a few cents each.

It happened that all of our regular carpentry teachers were busy on the day and hour necessary for the class, and we called on one of the most famous training schools for teachers in the country to recommend a competent teacher. The young man came to our office, and, on being asked by our Secretary what he considered the cheapest outfit possible to work with for such an elementary class, he replied, "One hundred dollars," and was not willing to teach with anything less.

This Experience Illustrates

forcibly one of the dangers that all training institutions for teachers need to guard against, namely, lack of flexibility of mind to meet changing conditions, and to adapt oneself willingly and efficiently to the necessities of whatever work is presented. In the case just referred to we secured another teacher of carpentry, who went ahead and conducted a thoroughly successful elementary class for us at the settlement referred to, with precisely the simple outfit of inexpensive tools we had originally planned.

Not the Least of the Benefits of our work is the employment we are able to give to scores of efficient teachers of thorough practical experience, who for lack of academic training are unable to get positions in the schools.

It is one of the most gratifying features of our work that we can so often have the opportunity of giving work to a fine teacher, at the same time we are giving our pupils the advantages of exceptionally efficient instruction.

Our Advice is Freely Given

to any person or Society that wishes to consult us about the best kind of class to meet the needs of a particular group of children, or in regard to the best methods of conducting classes where the pupils are especially difficult to manage.

It is always possible to arrange classes that will arouse and hold the interest of the pupils, provided an attractive form of handwork is selected, and a teacher is secured who has the personality that wins and inspires the children.

Very Encouraging Letters

have been received from an unusual number of our contributors the past year stating their appreciation of the amount of work accomplished with their money, and in many cases they have largely increased their usual gifts because the practical nature of our free classes in self support appeals so strongly to their judgment.

Money is Required

to send experienced teachers of manual and domestic training to Settlements, Industrial Schools, Missions, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, and other Societies that appeal to us for help, because they have no money to employ trained instructors.

The Need of an Endowment

An endowment fund is needed to place the work of this Society upon an assured basis, where it will be in a position not only to continue all important classes as long as they are needed, but also to extend the benefits of its work by starting new free classes in practical manual and domestic training in response to urgent appeals that are received from different tenement districts of the city.

Our good friend, Mr. Jacob A. Riis, who has known about the value and success of our classes for many years, was asked by a business man whether he considered our Society worthy of a contribution. Mr. Riis wrote in reply: "I do not know of any better work anywhere. It ought to have an endowment of a million dollars."

minor donars.

Supported by Voluntary Contributions

The work of this Society is supported by voluntary contributions, and gifts of any amount will be appreciated.

Twenty-five dollars supports free lessons for twelve normal children or six crippled children for three months. One hundred dollars supports such a class for an entire year.

Checks to aid our work should be sent to the Secretary and Treasurer, J. Eugene Whitney, at the office of this Society, 105 East 17th Street, New York City.

THE ELOOUENCE OF RESULTS

New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children, 141 West 61st Street, Mrs. A. L. Erlanger, President.

"Your class in corrective physical exercises for cripples is progressing beautifully. The children all look forward to it and enjoy it immensely. I thank you in behalf of our little ones and the officers of our organization for all the help you have given us."

Greenwich House, 26 Jones Street, Miss Alice Spink.

"We are very grateful for the classes you have given us this winter. We feel that those for the defectives have been especially valuable."

Vanderbilt Clinic of College of Physicians and Surgeons, West 59th Street, Dr. Linsly R. Williams.

"At the Vanderbilt Clinic your teacher of corrective physical exercises, Mr. Steigner, has been doing excellent work with physically defective children.

The patients he has treated have been very much benefited.

Hebrew Educational Society, Pitkin Avenue and Watkins Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., Otto Kempner, Secretary.

"At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hebrew Educational Society it was unanimously voted that a letter be sent thanking the People's University Extension Society of New York for the very valuable co-operation it has rendered this organization in its work.

"The cordial relations that have existed between your Society and ours, resulting in much benefit to the public we are seeking to aid educationally, have been a source of great gratification to the officers of the Hebrew Educational Society."

Association for the Aid of Crippled Children, 5 Livingston Place, Mrs. Della Crawford, Superintendent.

"I am writing to express my appreciation of the corrective physical exercises for our crippled children conducted by your instructor, Mr. Steigner, who has the faculty of interesting as well as benefiting these children. We thank you for donating Mr. Steigner's services and for your kind interest in crippled children."

Waverly House of New York Probation Association.

"We are under obligation to the People's University Extension Society for the classes it has given Waverly House." Hon. Charles S. Whitman, President, in his Annual Address.

German Hospital, Park Avenue and 77th Street, Dr. Louis Kortum, Superintendent.

"It gives me pleasure to state that our corrective physical training classes under your instructor are developing into successful work. Our classes have made splendid progress and in some cases the result has been surprisingly good. This latter opinion is a statement made by Dr. Jaeger in charge of our Orthopedic Department.

appreciated."

Charity Organization Society, Corlears District, 127 Chrystie Street, Miss A. M. Decker, District Agent.

"We wish to thank you for your help in providing a fine sewing teacher free of charge. We feel that the class has done well and has been of much benefit to a large number of our little girls."

Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled, 42d Street and Lexington Avenue.

Dr. V. P. Gibney, Surgeon in Chief, says in his report:

"The People's University Extension Society have kindly provided at their expense a teacher in manual training, which has proven a very helpful addition to our regular school course."

King's Daughters' House, 216 East 128th Street, Mrs. Albert Houtman.

"I wish to tell you what splendid work your director, Mrs. Turner, and all your associate teachers have done for us. We thank you very much for all the help you have given us."

Children's Aid Society, 105 East 22nd Street, Matthew P. Adams, Superintendent Trade Schools.

"Many thanks for your kind help at our 63rd Street School. It has been a great aid to us. Without it we should have had to close up some of our work."

New York Training School for Teachers, 220 West 120th Street, Miss M. Blanche Bosworth.

"Please accept the gratitude of the principal of the Model School, teachers and mothers for the privilege of hearing Dr. Delaney Barbour's splendid helpful talk. All were enthusiastic and wish to hear her again. Your kindness to me during many years has been greatly appreciated."

German Polyclinic Hospital, Dr. Dexter D. Ashley.

"I am pleased to say we are very grateful for the assistance given us by your instructor in corrective exercises at the German Polyclinic."

Lincoln Hospital for the Colored, East 141st Street, Miss Alice E. Pierson, Superintendent of Training School.

"I wish to thank you for the great opportunity you have given us in Mr. Steigner's class in corrective physical training for our nurses. It has been a great help and the nurses enjoyed it exceedingly."

Washington Square Home for Friendless Girls, 9 West 8th Street, Miss Anna E. Coyne, Superintendent.

Dear Mr. Whitney:—"I want to thank you for sending Mrs. Harding to us. She is the very best teacher that we have ever had. In fact we gave up physical training three years ago because the girls were not interested enough to do good work, but now what a change! Every girlloves the work and their teacher, being greatly benefited and helped thereby. If I am not asking too much would it be possible to have her continue the good work through the kindness of your good Society."

Wesley House, 212 East 58th Street, Miss Sara L. Carson, Headworker.

"I want to thank you for the splendid teachers you have so kindly sent us. We are anxious to have all the classes continued and hope you can continue to give us your kind help."

Waverly House, of New York Probation Association, 165 West 10th Street, Miss Maude E. Miner, Secretary.

"We heartily appreciate the free classes which the People's University Extension Society has furnished us and I wish to thank you again for them. The girls appreciate and enjoy the lessons and they are splendid for them."

- Mission of Our Lady of Loretto, 303 Elizabeth Street, Rev. Father Walsh.
- "We are very grateful for the course of economic cooking lessons you are giving us. The children are greatly interested in them and they have been a real benefit to the poor families."
- Sunshine Settlement, 125 White Street, Miss V. Corena Furry, Treasurer.
- "I want to thank you sincerely on behalf of our Settlement for your kind help of our work. Your teachers have done splendid service."
- St. Mary's Church, Alexander Avenue and 142nd Street, Bronx.
- "We thank you heartily for the help you have given our girls. We are greatly pleased with your physical training teacher and the girls are enjoying the class very much."
- Richmond Hill House, 28 Macdougal Street, Miss Elizabeth R. Bartholow.
- "Your teacher of manual training has been very successful indeed with her class here and we would like very much to have her continue if you can help us so much. We thank you for sending us such a fine instructor for our children."
- Goodwill Girls' Club, 41 Tompkins Place, Brooklyn, Miss Isabella T. Cummings, President.
- "We thank you very much for your kind assistance in our work. The embroidery class has been very successful."

REPORT OF The People's University Extension Society OF NEW YORK

The Thirteenth Year

of the work of this Society has just been completed with satisfactory progress shown in every department.

The largest growth has been in our special classes in corrective physical training for crippled children and in our classes for girls in reformatories, as stated in detail on other pages.

Increased Success of Our Classes in Corrective Exercises for Crippled Children

Probably the most important and gratifying development of our work the past year has been the increased success of our free classes in corrective physical training for crippled children.

Most of these classes are carried on by our special instructor in prominent city hospitals with the advice and approval of the orthopedic surgeons in each case.

Doctors who were doubtful of the possibility of accomplishing much by physical training in the case of children badly crippled, have become convinced by the remarkable instances of improvement recorded by their own measurements of some of the most difficult cases, and are now hearty advocates of this simple natural method of treatment.

The Magnitude of Our Work for Cripples

is shown by the fact that the large number of successful classes in corrective physical training, first organized and carried on by us in city hospitals during 1909, have more than doubled, the number of lessons in special corrective work the past year having increased to one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six. The average attendance of crippled children at these lessons was eight.

It Has Been Shown Repeatedly

in our classes for crippled children that bodily defects can be partially and often entirely cured by mild corrective physical exercises under the direction of a trained instructor.

Wisely selected exercises, gently but regularly and frequently performed soon deepen the breathing, and add vigor and tone to the entire system, strengthening the circulation and gradually building up weak or defective parts of the body.

After a short course of training in corrective movements in one of our free classes, young crippled children have sometimes improved so much that they were able to leave off the mechanical braces they had previously been compelled to wear.

Free Classes for Crippled Children

were given in the following institutions during the year:

Association for Aid of Crippled Children
Ballard School for Defective and Crippled Children Bellevue Tuberculosis Boat
Brooklyn Orphan Asylum
Darrach Home for Crippled Children
Davis Industrial School for Crippled Children
Do Ye Nexte Thynge Society
German Hospital—Orthopedic Department
German Polyclinic Hospital—Orthopedic Department
Greenwich House
Harlem Hospital—Orthopedic Department
Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled Children House of Annunciation for Crippled and Incurable Children.
Laura Franklin Hospital—

Lincoln Hospital for Colored People
M. E. Hospital, Brooklyn
N. Y. Home for Destitute Crippled Children Normal College Alumnae House
Orphan House of Church Charity Poundation
Post-Graduate Hospital—Orthopedic Department Vanderbilt Clinic of College of Physicians and Surgeons—Orthopedic Department.
Wilkes Dispensary of St. Mary's Hospital

Handwork Classes for Crippled Children

have been called for in larger numbers the past year than ever before, and the attendance and interest of the pupils has been very satisfactory. The principal subjects taught to cripples have been:

	Number of Lessons
Basketry	564
Bead-Work	48
Bent Iron	24
Book-Binding	84
Carpentry
Carving
Cobbling	60
Cooking	72
Chair Caning	456
Dressmaking
Embroidery	120
Knitting	204
Irish Crochet
Paper Work	84
Rug Making
Raffia	96
RaffiaSewing
Weaving

Three thousand and ninety-two lessons in handwork were given to crippled children, with an average attendance of more than 8 pupils at each lesson.

One Crippled Boy

who has one leg in a plaster cast and has to use a crutch is becoming a very good little workman in one of our carpentry classes for crippled children.

Although he is so badly handicapped he has made a strong set of book-shelves in mission style that shows very creditable workmanship for a boy of 14 and he is now making a large paper rack.

Training Hospital Nurses

to fit them to become expert directors of corrective physical exercises for crippled children in any hospital they become connected with, is one of the most important new developments of our work.

We have been able to show hospital surgeons such marked benefits to cripples from our free classes in corrective exercises that they have been willing in several cases to co-operate with us in arranging for thorough instruction of nurses in their regular training schools for nurses.

We send our regular teacher of corrective physical training to instruct the nurses, and the experimental lessons for them were such a success that the instruction has been continued wherever it has been tried.

Handwork for Mental Defectives

The success of our free manual training classes in arousing and stimulating the minds of mentally defective children, has again shown the truth that the world is so slow to learn, namely, that hand and brain are best developed together.

A boy so sluggish in mind as to be considered almost hopeless by those who knew him, was so much interested and stimulated by chair caning lessons that he became a pretty good workman in six weeks. Our teachers find that manual training appeals to even the worst mental defectives.

Seven hundred and forty-four lessons were given these unfortunate children in the following subjects:

NUMBER OF LESSONS

There was an average attendance of nine mental defectives at each lesson.

Our Classes in Correction of Speech Defects,

which have been so successful as to arouse the keen interest of public school inspectors, teachers and principals, are purely an outgrowth of our classes in corrective physical exercises for crippled children.

It happens that our principal teacher of corrective physical training, Mr. Henry Steigner, is also an expert instructor in elocution and dramatic expression. Hence, when he occasionally found a crippled child who had some defect of speech, he kindly gave such a child a little personal drill for the correction of the defect. The improvement resulting was so striking as to attract the attention of everyone connected with the children, and it soon came to the notice of public school teachers and nurses.

The Principal of Public School No. 12

wrote us that she had 22 cases of serious speech defects in her own school and asked whether our Society would send its successful instructor to correct the defects of her pupils.

We started such a class as soon as possible and the results have been entirely satisfactory, as the following statement from the principal shows:

"I am glad to report that the speech defect class is progressing very well indeed and that the children are showing a marked gain. Several who could scarcely make themselves understood can now recite distinctly quite a long selection and can talk much better. I feel sure the work is doing much good."

ELSIE W. KORNMAN. Principal of P. S. No. 12.

The Remarkable Effect

on a boys' general school work due to his improvement in speech is shown by a case spoken of by Miss Wilson, one of the teachers at Public School No. 12, where our largest speech-defect class is held.

One of her pupils was so defective in speech that the highest mark he ever got in reading was "D," and all the teachers were in despair about him until he was put into our class in corrective speech-defect exercises. Miss Wilson says that the records show that when a boy is given a low mark, "D" for instance, a number of times in his report, instead of improving he continues to get "D."

When this boy was examined in reading, after a few lessons in our corrective class, the teacher found such improvement and such earnest effort to speak correctly that she praised him and marked him "G" for the first time in his experience. He was very proud of his improvement and his teachers' praise, and his old apathy and disheartenment have disappeared, while his work is improving in all directions.

The teacher emphasizes this case because of its psychological value in illustrating how an improvement in the boy's speech has aroused him to better effort in all his work.

Visiting Nurses of the Public Schools

have learned about our work in corrective exercises for cripples and in correction of speech defects and have become so much interested that they are cooperating with us by sending to our free classes many children they think would be benefited by our corrective training.

The Greatest Need of the Incurably Blind

is simple handwork that will serve to make bearable the long darkness in which their days are spent, and will also afford a practical means of self-support when necessary.

Miss Helen Keller,

the wonderful blind girl, has said with great pathos, "The heaviest burden on the blind is not their blindness, but idleness. Opportunity to work is the boon the blind ask of their fellowmen. Work, profitable work, robs blindness of its cruelest sting. Opportunity is the torch of darkness."

Free Handwork Classes for the Blind

Two hundred and eight courses, comprising two thousand four hundred and ninety-six free lessons, in the following branches of manual training and domestic science and art, were given by our Society during the year to blind pupils who have shown great eagerness to learn.

The average attendance of blind pupils has been seven at each lesson.

Handwork for Neurological Patients

The most interesting new feature of our work has been an experiment in the treatment of extreme nervous tension by suitable handwork.

We have been able to carry to a successful demonstration, in co-operation with the Neurological Institute, a special class in varied forms of attractive handwork for the benefit of patients suffering from nervous diseases likely to lead to serious disease of the brain unless checked.

The experimental class was attended by both patients and nurses, and was so successful in interesting and benefiting the patients that the lessons have been continued

Interesting handwork adapted to the needs of the patient has a marked beneficial effect both mentally and physically on those suffering from extreme nervous and mental disorders.

Classes for Girls in Reformatories

have increased in number and importance and form one of the most valuable portions of our work.

During the year we sent some of our most successful and inspiring teachers to give lessons to large classes of girls in the following reformatories:

Elizabeth Home for Girls
Home for Friendless Women and Girls
House of Mercy
N. Y. Magdalen Benevolent Society
Washington Square Home for Girls
Waverly House of the New York Probation Association
Wayside Home for Girls

Eight hundred and forty free lessons were given to girls in the above-named reformatories in the following subjects:

								SSONS
Basketry								36
Cooking								96
Sewing and Dressmaking								264
Weaving								24
Millinery								60
Physical Training								336
Raffia Work								24

The average attendance of the girls at our classes in reformatories has been twelve at each lesson, making a total attendance of more than ten thousand.

Reforming Unruly Pupils

is one of the greatest objects of every fine teacher, and the managers of every organization working for social betterment should realize that all unruly children can be interested in manual training if handled with tact and sympathy, and when once interested they usually make the best workmen in the class.

In one sewing school we had sent one of our teachers to be director of the entire school with the management of a number of assistants.

At the first lesson she was told that one girl had been sent home, as the assistant could not do anything with her and the girl was annoying the whole school. The director immediately went after the girl, had a talk with her and brought her back to enter her own class. The girl became so much interested in her sewing that she only missed one lesson in twenty-four weeks and won a prize for bringing in new members, besides doing very nice work in sewing.

One of the Most Hopeless Boys

ever enrolled in our manual training classes was a Bohemian boy of twelve years, whose father and mother were slovenly, hard-drinking people. No good influence seemed to exist in the home, and the boy would sometimes reel into the class under the influence of drink and tell the teacher that the only dinner he had had was beer and bread.

Our teacher stood by this boy faithfully for four seasons, and her efforts to encourage him to become a good workman and to correct his habits have borne such good fruit that she recently received a letter from him telling her he had secured a good position and that it was her teaching that had made a man of him.

A Young Bootblack

who was escorted by one of our manual training teachers from a saloon door to her chair caning class became such a good workman that he recently secured a position in a cabinet shop at eight dollars a week, and sent his young brother to tell our teacher of his success and his gratitude to her.

Training Tenement Mothers

in the essentials of hygiene and sanitation with particular reference to the care of children and prevention of children's diseases is still the largest department of our work, five hundred and thirty-nine lectures having been given by our physicians to more than 70,000 mothers during the year.

In connection with these meetings large quantities of our free Health Hints are distributed, printed in English, German, Italian, Hebrew and Bohemian.

The Prevention of Hot Weather Diseases

has grown to be the largest part of our summer work. We send our physicians to give practical lectures on this subject to large gatherings of mothers, sometimes numbering more than five hundred.

These lectures are given in halls, public schools, churches of all denominations and the rooms of any societies that call for them.

It needs to be constantly explained to tenement women that summer diseases of babies that cause such an alarming death rate are entirely preventable and are due to the ignorance and carelessness of mothers in feeding their babies.

The instruction is given in the simplest possible language and great emphasis is laid on the fact that fresh air, cleanliness and pure clean food mean health.

The Prevention of Tuberculosis

has had an important place in our instruction of tenement mothers ever since our work was organized in January, 1898.

During the past year we have come into active co-operation with the Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis, and have thus been able to increase our work largely in this most important direction.

The American Medical Association,

through its New York City committee, has kindly co-operated with our Society by sending physicians to lecture to Mothers' Meetings on the Care of Children and Prevention of Disease at places where we needed their help.

The 36 Branches of the New York Public Library

have had our co-operation during the year in instructing their readers in regard to practical hygiene and sanitation in the home.

We supplied ten thousand free copies of our Health Hints, printed in English, German, Italian, Yiddish and Bohemian, which were placed on the librarian's desk in each Library to be taken by those readers who cared to have them.

These health leaflets were so much appreciated by the readers that in many instances they applied for additional copies to give to their friends.

The International Committee of the Y. M. C. A.

asked our co-operation last season in supplying to their members copies of our practical leaflets on the care of health, which are published in five languages.

We have just received from the Secretary, Fred. H. Rindge, Jr., a letter asking for more copies, in which he says:

"You will be glad to know that we have been making most excellent use of your little health circulars; in fact, we have exhausted the supply which you so kindly sent us some time ago, and I am exceedingly anxious to obtain more just as soon as possible."

The Society for Instruction in First Aid to the Injured

has kindly co-operated with us again the past year and enabled us to give more practical courses in First Aid than we could have carried on without their help.

Child Welfare Exhibit

Our Society was represented at the Exhibit by two large screens, on which were shown photographs of several of our manual and domestic training classes in operation.

A table of figures was given showing the number of organizations helped by our Society and another table showing the number of classes of all kinds given in one year with the number of lessons, enrollment and total attendance.

More Economic Cooking Classes

have been called for than in any previous year, one hundred and seventy-two courses of two thousand and sixty-four lessons having been given, with a total attendance of twenty-four thousand seven hundred pupils.

Pupils are taught not only how to prepare food in a palatable and appetizing manner, but to select the kinds of food that give the most nutriment for the money.

One of Our Cooking Classes

for colored women has been so successful that in less than three months eight of the women were trained and placed in positions as cooks.

A Special Class for Colored Men

in restaurant cooking boasts that every member of the class found work as a result of the training in cooking that our teacher had given him.

One of these men is second chef on a P. R. R. dining car, another is on a Cunard liner and another in a large apartment house restaurant.

"Large Meals for Little Money,"

the little book of 36 pages on Economic Cooking prepared by Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson of our office, primarily for use of our cooking classes, has been so widely appreciated and called for that the first edition was exhausted and it has been necessary to publish a new edition.

The aim of this little book is to give in simple language some of the results of the work of leading scientific authorities regarding the necessary proportion of tissue-building and energy-producing elements in foods

Bills of fare are furnished for nutritious and palatable meals that should cost about 85 cents a day for a family of 5 persons.

The President and Secretary of this Society ate all of the meals when the recipes were being tried out, and can testify to their satisfactory character when they are properly cooked.

This little book is furnished to classes at 5 cents each, the cost of publication, and is sold to the general public at 10 cents each.

Orders for the book have been received from thirtythree different states and from the District of Columbia, Canada, Philippine Islands and Scotland.

The Dean of Women of the Penn. State College wrote:

"This course seems very wisely arranged."

The Journal of Home Economics names our booklet in its list of pamphlets "likely to be of value to teachers of home economics in schools and settlements."

Classes in Basket Weaving

have been more numerous than any other form of manual training during the year, 135 classes having been given, comprising 1,620 lessons.

One of the Institutions

we helped with basketry lessons was the Brooklyn Orphan Asylum. From an article on "What Our Boys Are Doing," printed by them, we quote a few interesting paragraphs about the work of our class at that place:

"A basketry class was formed for the younger boys with the hearty co-operation of the People's University Extension Society, and eager little fingers were taught to bend and twist and tie various knots, until many kinds of baskets, large and small, were produced.

"It was a matter of surprise to the committee that little chaps of nine and ten years could accomplish such creditable work. And their enthsuiasm was delightful!

"One of the children smuggled his unfinished basket into the dormitory at night and was found next morning at four o'clock sitting up in bed vigorously working away at his basket,

"Several of the oldest boys became so proficient in basket making that the teacher reported them qualified to do factory work. We trust it will be four years before they will be put to work, but when the time does come they will have a means of livelihood at command.

"As the Saturday afternoon class encroaches on the boys' playtime they have been told they were at liberty to absent themselves from the workshop whenever they chose. The best commentary on their attitude toward this matter is the reply made by one of the boys: 'You bet we don't want to miss that class.'

"It is impossible to estimate the value of these lessons to our boys in their future battle with the world."

> (Signed) MRS. H. A. LA CHICOTTE, Chairman of Boys' Industrial Committee.

"How Shall the Little Ones Sew?"

is a very simple, practical booklet of 32 pages, prepared by our assistant, Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson, and published by our Society to help those conducting elementary sewing classes.

This booklet explains the evils of the old system of fine sewing for little girls and gives full details of our improved coarse sewing system which has been in successful operation for several years.

The Journal of Home Economics, says of it: "This little book promises to be an excellent guide to those conducting sewing classes in settlements and church schools."

Mrs. Woolman, Director of Department of Domestic Art at Teachers' College, wrote us: "The plan is excellent. . . . I shall be delighted to suggest the use of the book to my students."

Orders have been received for the book from teachers, training institutions and persons interested in sewing, from 17 states of our Union, Canada and the Philippine Islands.

The price of the book is 5 cents to charitable classes and institutions, 6 cents postpaid, and 10 cents to the public.

Making Over Old Garments

is one of the practical subjects taught incidentally by our sewing teachers.

One teacher had given a talk to a group of mothers on this subject, and the next time she met them she found they had made good use of her instruction, one mother having made a muff for her little girl from an old piece of corduroy from a coat that she had not known what to do with.

Another had made a good hat from an old muff that was useless for any other purpose.

One Colored Woman

who could not sew a patch on her husband's clothes when she joined one of our sewing and dressmaking classes, in a few months became expert enough to make all her own dresses and to earn a good deal by sewing for others.

As colored people are often much slower in learning than other races, the progress made by the woman mentioned is the more significant.

Nine Hundred and Forty-two Societies

in the various boroughs of New York have been helped by our Society with teachers and lecturers since our work began in 1898. The list includes:

- 221 Public Schools
  - 36 Industrial Schools
- 76 Girls' Clubs
- 78 Settlements
- 138 Churches, Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew
- 60 Church Societies of all Denominations
- 38 Missions of all Denominations
- 76 Kindergartens
- 31 Day Nurseries
- 23 Women's Clubs
- 15 Hospitals
- 8 Y. M. C. A.'s
- 7 Y. W. C. A.'s
- 16 Societies for Crippled Children
- 8 Reformatories
- 6 Boys' Clubs
- 8 Sewing Schools
- 7 Libraries and Reading Rooms
- 5 Charity Organization Society Branches
- 5 Societies for the Blind.
- 12 Children's Aid Society Schools
  - 5 Orphan Asylums
  - 3 Salvation Army Posts
- 2 Playgrounds
- 6 Parks
- 1 Society for Deaf Mutes
- 3 Vacation Schools
- 9 Recreation Piers
- 2 High Schools
- 37 Miscellaneous Societies

One Hundred and Forty-six Brooklyn Societies

have been helped with free classes in manual training, domestic science and art or with lecturers on hygiene and sanitation since our Society was organized.

Some of the best known of these Brooklyn institutions are:

Maxwell House

Deaconess Home

Hebrew Educational Society

Little Italy Neighborhood House

Asacog House

Ballard School for Defective Children

Bethany Settlement Good Will Girls' Club

Greenpoint Settlement

Hamilton Settlement Howard Colored Orphan Asylum

Industrial School No. 4

Meredith Free Kindergarten

Physicians' Kindergarten

St. Phebe's Mission House

St. Vincent de Paul Settlement House

School Settlement Association

Willow Place Chapel

Sixty-four Brooklyn Public Schools have been furnished with free lectures for large public meetings of mothers by the experienced physicians sent out by this Society in response to requests for practical instruction in hygiene and sanitation and prevention of children's diseases.

All Races and All Creeds

share freely in the benefits of our free classes and lectures throughout the city.

The principal races represented in our classes are:

English Irish German Italian Hebrew Scotch French

Spanish Swedish Negro Russian Dutch Hungarian Austrian

Bohemian Armenian Norwegian Danish Swiss Polish Greek

One Unique Feature

of our educational work is that we carry the opportunity for free practical training in self-help, with all the inspiration that interesting classes in manual training and domestic science and art involve, right into the rooms of the people themselves, by giving free classes in their clubs, churches, missions and other societies, wherever they are called for.

We thus make these local societies active centers through which we furnish the practical training most needed by their people.

All Our Work Is Preventive in Nature

Our free lectures to tenement mothers all teach them in simple, practical language how to prevent disease and keep their families healthy by means of fresh air, cleanliness and economical pure food properly prepared.

Our free classes in advanced manual training and domestic science and art aim to prepare our older pupils to become self-supporting, and thus protect them as far as possible against poverty and crime.

We Save All the Expense

of renting rooms for our classes and the cost of heating, lighting and management of the hundreds of places throughout the city where we are furnishing instruction

The entire amount our Society pays for rent is $22 a month for the use of the office where the executive work of the Society is carried on.

By sending our trained teachers to give lessons in the rooms of other societies where the classes are needed, but could not be carried on without our help, we do the largest amount of work possible with the money expended.

Duplication of Effort

is also avoided by our system of sending teachers only to places that actually have groups of young people wanting the instruction but that lack the money to employ trained teachers without our co-operation.

Advice About Organizing Classes

It is a common mistake made by inexperienced social workers to suppose that all that is needed to have a successful class is to make up their own minds that a certain group of children need instruction in some particular branch of manual training, or domestic science or art, and to secure a competent teacher and announce the day and hour for the class to begin.

When very few children attend the first lesson, as is usually the case in such circumstances, the manager hastily and unwisely decides that the children don't care to learn, whereas, the trouble lies in the fact that she has gone the wrong way about it.

It is always important to avoid even the appearance of trying to dictate or force the children to enter classes, and especially so when, as in settlement work, the attendance must necessarily be voluntary.

The Best Way to Organize a Class

is to talk the subject over with the children, show them specimens of the beautiful things that are made in such classes, and thus get them interested and so create a desire in their minds to learn how to make such things themselves.

When the children have become interested enough to express a desire to learn the work, the manager should explain that she will arrange to have such a class started if enough of them enroll themselves as members and promise to attend the lessons regularly, so as to make it worth while to secure a fine teacher.

An enrollment paper should be prepared, and all the children who desire to become members of the class should sign. They should be made to realize that it is their own class and they will be responsible for the success of it. For ordinary subjects there should be 15 enrolled, as that will insure an average of a dozen members, which number can be efficiently taught by any competent teacher.

How We Can Do So Much Work

with so little money is a question asked repeatedly every year.

The secret is that we employ the principle of cooperation to enable us to accomplish the largest practical results with the greatest economy of expense.

We receive, every year, appeals from hundreds of social settlements, boys' and girls' clubs, poor churches of all denominations, Catholic, Protestant and Hebrew, and other Societies of all kinds, that have their own rooms and groups of young people eager for instruction in manual training or household science or art, but they lack money to employ trained teachers and ask us to help them by furnishing such instructors.

Money Is Urgently Needed

to continue the large number of important classes now in operation and to employ experienced teachers to start new classes where there are groups of young people eager to learn practical self-support, but who cannot have the instruction without our help.

Gifts of Cloth and Other Material

for use in our free classes in sewing, dressmaking, embroidery, millinery, crocheting, etc., will be gladly received, as the pupils in many of our classes are too poor to furnish the necessary materials, even where our Society pays all the other expenses.

Orders May Be Sent to Us

for baskets, rugs and crochetted baby shoes, hats and jackets and ladies' vests to be made by pupils in our classes.

The Need of an Endowment

An endowment fund is needed to place the work of this Society upon an assured basis, where it will be in a position not only to continue all important classes as long as they are needed, but also to extend the benefits of its work by starting new free classes in practical manual and domestic training in response to urgent appeals that are received from different tenement districts of the city.

Our good friend, Mr. Jacob A. Riis, who has known about the value and success of our classes for many years, was asked by a business man whether he considered our Society worthy of a contribution. Mr. Riis wrote in reply: "I do not know of any better work anywhere. It ought to have an endowment of a million dollars."

The Beginning of an Endowment

has been made by a recent bequest from the estate of the late James Rufus Smith, one of our regular contributors, who made our Society one of the residuary legatees.

The exact amount of the bequest is not known, but it will be several thousand dollars. The income from this fund will enable us to start free classes for one hundred or more children who are anxious to learn manual training and whom we could not otherwise help.

Supported by Voluntary Contributions

The work of this Society is supported by voluntary contributions, and gifts of any amount will be appreciated.

Twenty-five dollars supports free lessons for twelve normal children or six crippled children for three months. One hundred dollars supports such a class for an entire year.

Checks to aid our work should be sent to the Secretary and Treasurer, J. Eugene Whitney, at the office of this Society, 105 East 17th Street, New York City.

THE ELOQUENCE OF RESULTS

German Hospital and Dispensary, East 77th Street, Park and Lexington Avenues, Louis Kortum, Superintendent.

"The work which you are doing is of the greatest benefit to those who can avail themselves of the instruction, and we are pleased to have your teacher come here to teach in conjunction with our work.

"Mr. Steigner has been very successful; the number of his pupils has steadily increased, and they are very enthusiastic about it.

"I have personally seen where the exercises brought excellent results."

The New York Society for the Relief of the Ruptured and Crippled, Lexington Avenue and 42d Street, O. H. Bartine, Superintendent.

"The teachers sent to this hospital by your Society have given great satisfaction to the hospital, and have given the children much useful pleasure."

Five Points Mission, 63 Park Street, Rev. F. J. Belcher, Superintendent.

"May I be permitted to say that the teachers in sewing and embroidery sent us by the University Extension Society, have been of great benefit to our girls.

"They have been greatly interested in their work, thus kept from the streets, and have made astonishing proficiency.

"We believe this to be one of the most helpful charities that we are able, through your kindness, to do for this people."

Public School No. 12, Madison and Jackson Streets, Elsie W. Kornman, Principal.

"I am glad to report that the speech defect class is progressing very well indeed and that the children are showing a marked gain. Several who could scarcely make themselves understood can now recite distinctly quite a long selection, and can talk much better. One little defective girl, who seemed quite dumb, can say four words distinctly and is making attempts at others. I feel sure that the work is doing much good."

Washington Square Home for Friendless Girls (Reformatory), o West 8th Street, Caroline Conway.

"The teachers from your Society have been remarkably successful in arousing the interest of the girls in the class work.

"We are very grateful for the generous assistance you have given us. The classes are very helpful and we feel that we would be badly crippled if we were obliged to do without them."

"The Little Mothers" Aid Association, 236 Second Avenue, Mrs. Clarence Burns, President.

"Please accept the hearty thanks of our Board of Managers for the assistance you have given us in furnishing teachers for sewing classes. Our children have made steady progress, and have improved so that many of them are in the dressmaking class. The teachers you have supplied have proved most valuable in developing the tendencies of the children in every way."

Darrach Home for Crippled Children, 118 West 104th Street Elizabeth G. Bauer, Secretary.

"I am instructed by the president of the Home to tell you that the children seem to have derived great benefit from the exercises and are apparently improved in many ways.

"The directors and managers of the Home wish to thank you for the very kind interest shown, and to assure you of their appreciation of the work done by your teacher."

The Charity Organization Society (Corlears District), 127 Chrystie Street, Miss A. M. Decker, District Secretary.

"The committee wishes to thank you for your help during the past winter, in sending Dr. Barbour and Dr. Cavalarro to us, to lecture to our Mothers. The meetings were better attended than in former years, and we feel that it was a very great help."

The Neighborhood Social and Industrial Club, 225 West 99th Street, Mrs. Frank E. Wise, President.

"I have had two very valuable teachers this year for our work, which I wish to thank you for. Excellent work has been done in the sewing class. The cooking class has a waiting list and is on its second course.

"The Society has been a great help to us in sharing our expenses."

Industrial School No. 4, 124 18th Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., Georgiana M. Butler, Principal.

"Our girls at Industrial School No. 4 are doing such splendid work this year under Mrs. Williamson, that I feel it a duty and a pleasure to let you know of it."

Hebrew Educational Society, Pitkin Avenue and Watkins Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., Charles S. Bernheimer, Superintendent.

"I beg to say that Mrs. Jones has been most successful in interesting the boys in the carpentry and basketry classes, and I can commend her work highly. I assume her services will be continued until the end of our term in May.

"I think this class work is useful to our boys in developing manual dexterity, and I appreciate the assistance your Society gives us. I shall write to you later with a view to your co-operation in our summer plans as heretofore.

St. Phebe's Mission House, 125 DeKalb Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., Edith R. Whiting.

"I want to thank you most heartily for your co-operation in our work, not only this past year, but ever since I have been engaged in philanthropic work, you have supplied us with excellent teachers and lecturers and assisted us in every possible way, and I feel that the success we have had in our work is due in a great measure to the assistance we have received from your Society."

Lincoln Hospital and Home, East 141st Street and Southern Boulevard, Mary W. Booth, President.

"It gives me great pleasure to write you of the excellent work done in our Institution by two teachers of your Society, Miss Buck and Mr. Steigner.

Miss Buck and Mr. Steigner.

"The managers are very appreciative of what your Society has done in behalf of our nurses and inmates and thank you heartily."

Christodora House, 147 Avenue B, C. I. MacColl, Head Worker.
"We are very thankful at Christodora House for the co-operation so generously extended to us by the People's University Extension Society."

Normal College Alumnae Settlement House, 446 East 72d Street, A. P. Gannett.

"We had an embroidery teacher and a teacher of brass work from you last year, both of whom were excellent, and we consider the help of great value."

Children's Aid Society, West Side Industrial School, 419 West 38th Street, Emeline Haight, Principal.

"As to the success of the classes for which you have provided teachers for several years past, it gives me the greatest pleasure to assure you that the 'Mothers' Cooking Class' taught for two years past, and now in session, is, and has been, a most gratifying success."

Wayside Home for Girls (Reformatory), 352 Bridge Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. (W. F.) Lizzie S. Smith, Chairman Educational Committee; Florence N. Lattin, Corresponding Secretary.

"Without your great help our work would have been very much harder than it is now. Mrs. Malcolm, as sewing teacher for two seasons, has accomplished a great deal Dr. Laura Riegelman was most entertaining and instructive. These lectures are long remembered by the girls and they do much good.

"Many thanks for your continued favors, from our board.

All Souls Mission Sewing School, 246 East 34th Street, Mrs. Thomas R. Slicer, President.

"I want to thank you for the very efficient work done for us by your teachers sent to All Souls Mission School, in our sewing classes.

"The People's University Extension Society,' is indeed doing a great work. It enables us to have trained workers at an expense within our means and thus keep up our sewing classes. Volunteer service is hard to obtain and difficult to hold.'

Brooklyn Orphan Asylum, Atlantic and Kingston Avenues, Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. (J. G.) E. M. Mead.

"Our class in cooking, taught by Mrs. Helen Sumner, has been and continues to be most successful.

"The assistance given by your Society has enabled us to continue our classes and I wish to assure you of the appreciation of such help by our board of managers as well as by the domestic science committee."

Hamilton House, 15 Hamilton Street, Louise Worthington. "The help that your Society has given to our girls for a number of years has been invaluable. Our children have been taught to sew and cook and have become quite skillful-especially in learning to make their own dresses and underclothing.'

REPORT OF

The People's University Extension Society OF NEW YORK

Fourteenth Year, ending January 24th, 1912

Encouraging Success

has marked the work of our Society during its fourteenth year, although for some months in the autumn subscriptions to aid our work were reduced by the business depression, so that some of our classes were forced to stop for lack of money to pay teachers, and we were unable to start many important new classes for the same reason.

Our strenuous efforts to secure funds the past few months have met with enough success to enable us to continue most of the classes we had been obliged to stop temporarily.

Many of Our Subscribers

have generously increased their usual gifts to aid our work, because the extremely practical nature of our free classes in self-help and the large amount of work accomplished with their money appealed strongly to their judgment.

Our Corrective Physical Training Classes

for the relief of crippled children have been very uccessful during the year. These classes are of great mportance because bodily defects can be partially and mentirely cured by systematic physical exercises, and er the direction of a trained teacher.

It is Important to Begin Early

with corrective physical training, while the child's bones are still flexible and yield readily to treatment. Proper corrective movements, gently but regularly and frequently performed, quickly deepen the breathing, add vigor and tone to the system, strengthening the circulation and building up weak parts of the body.

Corrective exercises necessarily vary so much to suit the special needs of each pupil that only a few children can be efficiently handled in a class. While our classes in ordinary physical training contain 25 to 75 pupils, special classes for cripples have usually

6 to 10 members.

Nineteen hundred and sixty-eight free class sessions were held, with an average attendance of seven pupils in each class.

Our Classes in Corrective Exercises for Cripples in Hospitals

are carried on in consultation with the orthopedic surgeons in charge in each case, and this work has been so successful that the surgeons in every hospital have asked us to continue the classes.

The opinion of the surgeons about the value of these corrective exercises is expressed in a letter received from Dr. Arthur S. Unger, of the Harlem

Hospital, who says:

"Permit me to thank you for your kindness in giving me the most valuable services of Mr. Henry Steigner, who has charge of the corrective exercise classes in Harlem Hospital. Due to his valuable services the patients have derived untold benefit."

Special Classes for Hospital Nurses

As an outgrowth of our successful free classes in corrective physical exercises for crippled children in hospitals, we have been asked to give free training in corrective exercises to hospital nurses in their Training Schools for Nurses.

These special free classes for nurses have been so successful that the nurses have learned how to conduct these important corrective exercises for crippled children in any hospital they may hereafter become connected with in any part of the country.

Manual Training for Crippled Children

is of unusual importance, because it gives them interesting occupation to keep their minds from dwelling on their condition, and it furnishes attractive physical exercise that helps strengthen their bodies, while they are getting elementary training in hand work that will help them to become self-supporting when necessary.

Free lessons were given to crippled children during the year as follows:

Our Free Classes for the Blind

have been carried on in the rooms of the City Home for the Blind Lincoln Hospital for Colored Blind and Crippled N. Y. Association for the Blind Westchester Alms House

Teaching suitable hand work to the blind is one of the greatest things that can be done to help them, for it gives them interesting occupation, and Miss Helen Keller has said that "opportunity to work is the boon the blind ask of their fellowmen."

Our blind pupils are always eager to learn and they do surprisingly well considering the difficulties under which they work.

Our classes for the blind during the year included:

Our Free Classes for Girls in Reformatories

where they are committed by the courts, have grown in importance as experience has proved their great value in giving these unfortunate girls practical training in domestic science and art that will fit them to earn a comfortable living when they are released from the institutions where our classes are held.

Most of the girls and women get into these institutions "for the deplorable reason," to quote one of our teachers, "that they are helpless; that is, they are not proficient in any sort of work by which they can earn enough to support themselves."

They enjoy our free classes in cooking, dressmaking, millinery, and other subjects so much that they make very good pupils, showing great improvement in conduct, and becoming quickly attentive, polite and respectful.

In the Magdalen Home for Girls, where we send one of our best domestic science teachers for two classes, the girls consider cooking class day the redletter day in the institution.

In One of Our Reformatory Classes

a particularly interesting case was that of a Russian girl of sixteen, who seemed very deficient mentally, spoke little English, knew nothing about sewing, and was so nervous she could hardly work.

Our teacher, after patient effort, succeeded in interesting this girl in sewing, and within a few months she learned to make satisfactory shirt waists, and also learned millinery so that she made a creditable hat.

A striking feature of this case is, that while this mentally deficient and extremely nervous girl has become a good worker in sewing and millinery, she has at the same time shown such marked improvement in every way that those who knew her before say they can hardly believe she is the same girl.

The Reformatories for Girls

where we have given free classes, are as follows:

are naturally the most difficult class to handle and our success with them is therefore of unusual interest.

Great patience and sympathy are necessary to arouse and stimulate the sluggish minds of these unfortunate children, and the results obtained by our teachers have been gratifying.

Work with these children is usually slow at first, but attractive hand work soon interests them and the mind is gradually developed as the hands become trained to do good work. Many of the older pupils ned to do such good work that they make order for which they get fair prices. upils in our manual training classes for menves have improved so in mind that they have to enter the regular grade classes in the ool.

Hand Work for Nervous Invalids

eresting experiments reported last year in of hand work on persons suffering from exvous tension have been continued by our ith success.

s in Correction of Speech Defects

oved so valuable in the public schools where iven them at the request of the school prinit we have continued them this year. re really experimental classes, carried on at se of our Society, in Public Schools No. 12, on Street, and No. 113, on Downing Street. We hope the demonstration we are giving the Board of Education of the great value of special instruction of this sort for the correction of the speech defects of public school pupils, will result in having provision made by the city for the proper treatment and cure of every child in the city schools who is troubled with any defect of speech.

The Problem of the "Bad Boy"

The average bad boy is simply a boy bubbling over with vitality and the natural spirits of a healthy young animal. He is in the street because his crowded tenement home gives no room for the active play that every boy needs.

He expends his energies in fighting and other objectionable practices, because he has no other interesting way of working off his surplus steam.

Give him something interesting to do, something to occupy the active brain and hands, and we open a new world to him—a world of undreamed-of possibilities of happiness and usefulness.

Every Boy Loves to Work With Tools

Give the wild boy the pleasure of making things with tools and you win him completely. He usually becomes very quickly one of the best workmen in the class, for he puts into his work the same dash and energy that made him a "terror" in the streets.

Very encouraging incidents constantly come to our notice showing the powerful impulse for good that is brought into the lives of these neglected waifs of the street by the systematic training of hand and brain under the guidance of our experienced and enthusiastic teachers.

The aptitude for learning shown by boys who have had no opportunities for making anything of themselves is often astonishing. It is not unusual to find a boy doing such good work in chair caning after six or eight lessons that he is able to earn money by caning chairs to order.

No Boy, However Bad,

is refused a chance to enter one of our manual training classes if there is room to take him in.

There is a mistaken notion in the minds of many people that the only way to handle a class of unruly boys is to have stern discipline enforced by a strong hand.

The best teacher is the one who inspires the pupils with such enthusiasm that they apply themselves to their work with genuine zest and are never ready to have quitting time come.

Carpentry Classes

are more interesting to the average boy than any other form of hand work, and they give most valuable practical training in the skillful use of the hands that fits the pupil to take up advanced carpentry and cabinet work, and will make him a more efficient workman in any form of handicraft he undertakes.

During the year twelve hundred and ninety-six lessons were given to an enrollment of fifteen hundred and seventy-five pupils, and a total attendance of more than fifteen thousand three hundred.

A Typical Class in Carpentry

consists of eighteen boys, called the White Guards, whose families have been connected with Bellevue Hospital, and for whom we furnished this class at the request of the Social Welfare Department of the hospital.

The method of work is to have each boy draw a plan of what he intends to make, thus giving him a little elementary instruction in mechanical drawing. Then he is supplied the necessary lumber on which he again outlines his plan and proceeds to cut.

The boys range in years from 12 to 14 and never had a lesson in carpentry before in public school or elsewhere.

The interest they take in their work is best shown by the fact that most of them never miss a lesson. The articles made are things they want to use in their homes, such as shoe blacking boxes, medicine chests, fancy corner shelves, mission match and trinket boxes, etc.

Each boy has made unusual progress in work and their improvement in conduct has delighted every one interested in the class.

A Special Job in Carpentry

consisting of a difficult piece of repairing that would ordinarily require a trained mechanic, was accomplished successfully by our boys' class in car-pentry, described in the previous paragraph.

One evening a strange and rougher element overpowered the smaller boys and threw a brick through the panel of the main door. The next night our teacher gave the boys their first lesson in house carpentry, and each boy is proud to tell how the splintered panel was removed and replaced by a new one and the moulding set back to complete the job, the repair work all being done by the boys of the class.

Chair Caning

is one of the most practical forms of manual training, because the boys always become quickly interested in the subject, and any bright boy can begin to earn money by caning chairs after a few lessons.

No other kind of hand work fits a boy to earn money in so short a time, and any boy who has energy and perseverance can get plenty of work in that line.

One boy, who was an active member of a tough street gang, has improved so greatly in conduct since he joined one of our chair caning classes that he has left the gang and is doing a good business caning chairs for pay during his spare time.

One thousand and fifty-six lessons in chair caning were given the past year, to a total attendance of more than twelve thousand six hundred.

One Bright Little Fellow

who evidently has the alert mind and executive ability to make a successful man, told one of our teachers he wanted to learn chair caning in her class so he could teach his father, and then when his father was thrown out of work, as sometimes happened, they could cane chairs "to help out."

Basket Weaving

is the most popular form of manual training in our classes, as it proves interesting to persons of all ages, from the boy or girl of seven to the old men and women of seventy-five.

The variety of shapes possible in reed baskets gives scope to the ingenuity and adds much to the interest, and in the use of raffia and the making of Indian baskets with designs in colors there is hardly any limit to the beautiful effects that can be produced.

During the year two thousand one hundred and eighty-four lessons were given in basketry, with a total attendance of more than thirty-two thousand pupils.

One Florist Ordered Six Dozen

violet baskets after a sample basket, made by one of our best negro basketry pupils, was shown him. The flower baskets are very pretty small baskets made of reed, colored purple to make them suitable for violets.

One Large Basketry Class

had sixty members, both boys and girls, and the children were so anxious to learn, writes our teacher, "that many small girls even brought along their little brothers or sisters whom they were minding, in order that they might work with the pretty colored 'waffia,' as they said."

One big boy of whom the girls were very much afraid, and whom the boys called "Bill, the bully," was asked to leave the first day because he raised a commotion that ended in a fight. The next day he came with other boys and stood outside the window looking in and making faces. Our teacher opened the window and asked Bill how he would like to join the class and make baskets. He hesitated but finally went in and became our teacher's best worker and helper, never missing a lesson. The quality that had made him the bully gave him strength of purpose in a useful direction.

A Remarkable Example of the power of a manual training class to transform a boy considered absolutely hopeless into one of the best boys of the school, is the case of Charles G——.

A teacher with large experience in handling wild boys said of this one: "Of all the awful imps you ever met this same Charles was the worst. He wouldn't work, he disturbed the entire school and spent most of his time being punished.

Finally the head of the school came to our teacher of basketry and chair caning who taught the only manual training class in the institution, and appealed to her to take the boy into her class. She said: "Will you try Charles G——? He is driving everybody crazy and we can't interest him in anything."

Our teacher took him on condition that if he would not mind, out he must go. He started to disturb the class and was sent out promptly. Convinced that he must behave in order to remain in the manual training class he settled down to work and developed into a fine workman. Then his grade teacher threatened that if he did not study and keep quiet in her class he couldn't go to the manual training class. From that time he became one of the best boys in the entire school.

Physical Training Classes

designed to give healthful exercise to all the muscles and to correct bodily defects before they become noticeable, are of much greater importance than most people realize.

We all know that a fine horse must be exercised daily to keep it in good condition, yet how few persons ever consider that nature's law is invariable, and applys to the human body as well as to animals; reasonable exercise makes muscles healthy and vigorous, while disuse makes them weak and subject to disease.

Along with the great nervous tension of city school life goes a serious lack of opportunity for free and healthful exercise, that prevents the city child from gaining the physical development and vigor which are the birthright of childhood and upon which success in after life in no small degree depend.

All our physical training classes give special attention to breathing and other exercises for strengthening and developing the lungs, correcting spinal curvature and other bodily defects.

Classes in Economic Cooking

form one of the most important parts of our teaching for women and older girls. This subject never fails to secure the interest of the pupils and the progress made by them is satisfactorily proved by the quality of the dishes they prepare.

A regular cooking course includes three months' instruction, which covers the selection of those kinds of food that give the largest amount of nutriment for the money, and the proper cooking of the food to make it palatable and digestible.

The tasteful arrangement of the table and serving of food are important features of our cooking classes, as it is a scientific fact that an attractive table and daintily served food increase the supply of the digestive juices, without which proper digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

Two thousand three hundred and forty cooking lessons were given the past year, with an average attendance of eleven pupils at each lesson, making a total attendance of twenty-five thousand seven hundred and forty.

Large Meals for Little Money

is a little book on economic cooking prepared by Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson, of our office, and published by our Society as a manual and syllabus for use by our teachers and pupils in elementary classes.

The book is so simple and practical that it is praised by all who have used it. While the chemical studies of Prof. Atwater and other authorities have been used in arranging the dietaries so as to have well-balanced Bills of fare are given for good palatable meals that should cost about 85 cents a day for a family of five persons.

Millinery Classes

are very attractive to the older girls and they easily learn in one term of three months to make hats for themselves and families besides trimming hats to order at good prices.

This subject is of special practical importance because it so quickly fits a girl to earn good wages in millinery establishments.

In connection with millinery lessons our teachers often give instruction in ribbon flower making to those girls who show a taste for it.

A striking illustration of the great importance of training girls to become more skilled workers and a demonstration of the short time required to accomplish this, in the case of a bright girl, is the following from one of our millinery classes.

One of the pupils, a girl of sixteen or seventeen, was earning the starvation wages of $3.50 a week when she began attending our evening class. In one course of three months' lessons she learned to make ribbon flowers so well that she increased her wages to $10 a week.

Embroidery Classes

have been called for in larger numbers than usual and they have aroused much enthusiasm among the pupils. These classes are generally held in the evening for the benefit of working girls who are members of Girls' Friendly Societies, Working Girls' Clubs, and other organizations.

The most practical work is taught to enable the girls to fit themselves for regular trade work.

The interest shown by the girls in this subject was illustrated in one case by two sisters from one of our classes, who organized a noon-hour circle among the girls in the factory where they worked and taught their companions what they had learned about embroidery.

Fifteen hundred and thirty-two embroidery lessons were given during the year, with a total enrollment of nineteen hundred and twenty pupils, and a total attendance of more than fifteen thousand.

We Have Helped the Colored Race

with many free classes in manual and domestic training every year since our work began and the progress made by such classes has been very satisfactory.

One of the greatest difficulties in helping colored people is the fact that strong race prejudice makes it impossible for them to get situations in this part of the country in most lines of business, even though they are fitted to do satisfactory work.

A colored girl from one of our millinery classes started a little shop of her own for her race and reports she is able to make a good living out of it. Most of the girls in the same class made several hats to order during the course of lessons, for which they obtained fair prices.

One Colored Woman

who was a helpless invalid for seven years, joined one of our embroidery classes last winter. The teacher found she knew nothing about the subject, but after one winter's instruction she has learned to do such good work that she has earned considerable by the sale of her embroidery.

Making Willow Plumes

has proved a very successful kind of work for colored girls in connection with our classes in millinery, some of the girls having earned surprising sums. One girl earned four dollars in one day's work making willow plumes in her own home. Of course it was a long and hard day's work for the girl, but it shows the possibilities for earning a good living, as the girl in question had only received three months' instruction.

To colored people especially the knowledge of profitable home work is of great importance, as it enables them to avoid the race prejudices that confront them when they seek work in shops.

Sewing Classes

have been large and successful and the work done has been satisfactory. All of the work is of the most practical nature, as the girls are taught to work on real articles from the time they make their first stitches.

Four thousand nine hundred and sixty-eight sewing lessons were given during the year, with an enrollment of more than six thousand two hundred pupils, and a total attendance of more than seventy-five thousand.

"How Shall the Little Ones Sew?"

is a very simple, practical booklet of 32 pages prepared by our assistant, Miss Florence K. Johnson, and published by our Society to help those conducting elementary sewing classes.

This booklet explains the serious evils of the old system of fine sewing for little girls and gives full details of our improved coarse sewing system, which has been in successful operation for years.

The Journal of Home Economics says of it: "This little book promises to be an excellent guide to those conducting sewing classes in settlements and church schools."

"The Most Interesting Class I Have"

writes one of our most experienced teachers of manual and domestic training, "is in sewing for boys." She says: "It is really astonishing how the little fellows only eight and nine years of age take to it. They were the wildest lot of boys I ever saw, but the sewing with red worsted on tan burlap seemed to fascinate them. Gradually they learned how to apply the different stitches. They now sew on buttons, make needle cases, pencil holders and pen wipers, and will soon do some darning and patching."

Educating Tenement Mothers

in the essentials of hygiene, sanitation, economic cooking and housekeeping, care of children and prevention of disease, has been the largest branch of the work of our Society since our work began in 1898.

The value of such training for poor women cannot well be over-estimated, as it influences in a marked degree the health and prosperity of the whole family.

Care and Feeding of Babies Fresh Air, Cleanliness and Exercise Prevention of Children's Diseases Care of Eyes, Ears, Skin, Teeth and Throat Care of Children in Winter
Home Nursing and Invalid Cooking
First Aid in Common Accidents
Food and Cooking for Health and Economy
Fireless Cooking
Care of the Home and Home Nursing Economic Housekeeping
Prevention of Tuberculosis and other Contagious Diseases Prevention of Deformities in Children
The Mother as Teacher

Five hundred and fifty-one lectures were given to mothers' meetings by our physicians this year, thus giving instruction to more than eighty thousand.

Most Diseases of Babies are Caused by Improper Feeding Our doctors, in their simple lectures to mothers' meetings, always emphasize this important fact.

There is a common belief that the instinct of a mother can be trusted to teach her how to care properly for her baby. Nothing could be much further from the truth under the existing conditions of tenement life in a great city.

A single case will illustrate the ignorance of mothers regarding such a fundamental question as when to feed a baby. If a baby cries, the average mother will feed it, in spite of the probability that it is crying because it has already been overfed, and has pain in its stomach.

Our doctors explain to mothers how extremely small a baby's stomach is and how dangerous it is to overfeed it. When a baby is two weeks old its stomach only holds three tablespoonfuls of food, and the child is made uncomfortable and its health endangered by feeding it more.

Many mothers tell our doctors that before they learned about the care of health in our classes some of their family were always taking medicine, but now they are proud to have learned how to keep well without drugs.

A Public School Principal

Miss Mary F. Maguire, of No. 113, at 7 Downing Street, speaking of the help we have given her mothers' meetings, writes:

"My parents' meetings have been made infinitely more efficitive by the practical addresses of the Italian doctors furnished without charge by your Society. We thank you heartily for all your favors."

This letter is a sample of the reports we get from the principals and teachers of schools helped by us with speakers.

Two hundred and twenty-seven public schools in the various boroughs of New York City have been given free speakers by our Society in response to requests from them, since our work began.

The Board of Education or Board of Health should be giving all of these lectures to the mothers, and ultimately will no doubt do so, but at present we are called upon to give more than two hundred and fifty lectures yearly in public schools, at the expense of our Society.

Our Society Has Been Instrumental

in having a great many mothers' meetings organized and carried on throughout the city, by local societies that had done no organized work to give tenement mothers practical training in the vital questions of economic cooking, housekeeping, and hygiene and sanitation in the home, before we got them interested in the importance of the subject and co-operated with them by sending some of our best physicians to speak to their women.

One Enthusiastic Mother

who has received great benefit from the study of our leaflet of Health Hints, told one of our physicians she thought the leaflet so valuable it ought to be used in every public school.

Many principals of public schools in this city have had copies of our leaflet sent to the families of all the pupils in their schools, using in this manner as many as four thousand copies in one school.

Hot Weather Relief Work

is carried on extensively every year by this Society by means of simple, practical lectures to mothers' meetings, on the Prevention of Hot Weather Diseases of Children, especially babies, who die in such large numbers from purely preventable summer diseases due to improper feeding.

Our experienced physicians teach them how to keep their children healthy the year round by means of the simple essentials of hygiene and sanitation.

sumple essentials of hygicile and samtation

The Prevention of Deformities in Children

It is not generally known that deformities in children could usually be entirely prevented if the mothers were sufficiently informed on the subject. What they need is simple, practical instruction by a competent physician.

We furnish free lectures by experienced physicians on this important subject for mothers' meetings wherever they are called for throughout the city.

The Care and Repair of Clothing

One of the most useful lessons to teach tenement mothers is how to utilize worn-out clothing of adults by making it over for the children.

The amount of waste in most tenement families is large enough in proportion to income to be a serious problem. Useful material of all kinds is constantly thrown away because the mothers are ignorant of the best methods of utilizing it.

Our teachers give a large amount of special instruction every year on the making over of old garments of all kinds so that nothing need be wasted.

Classes in Crochet and Knitting

have been more popular than in any previous year of our work. These subjects are very attractive to young girls and old ladies alike, and few other kinds of hand work for women give so good an opportunity to earn money by home work.

Many of the girls in such classes make and sell articles to order before they have completed one term of three months' lessons.

One girl who was learning to make Irish crochet reported to our teacher that she had made several simple lace collars and had sold them for a dollar each before she had had twelve lessons.

Another girl in the same class reports that she is teaching a friend who works in the same office, and who cannot join the class, and so the work widens in many ways we never hear about and the benefits become far reaching.

The Eagerness to Learn

shown by the pupils, both young and old, in our classes, and the large amount of teaching we are able to give for every dollar contributed to our Society, makes it seem a great pity that we cannot secure money enough to respond to all the appeals we receive to start more free manual and domestic training classes.

One Scrubwoman

who works hard all day comes early in the evening to one of our dressmaking classes to learn to make clothing for her children. She made four complete garments before she had had nine lessons.

All the Branch Libraries

of the New York Public Library, 36 in number, have been supplied with free copies of our Health Hints for general distribution.

We furnished ten thousand copies of the Health Hints in English, German, Italian, Yiddish and Bohemian, which were placed on the librarian's desk in each library to be taken by those who wished.

That these leaflets were really read and appreciated was shown by the number of letters we received asking for additional copies to give to friends.

The Society for Instruction in First Aid to the Injured

has kindly co-operated with us again the past year and enabled us to give more practical courses in First Aid than we could have carried on without their help.

Regular University Extension Courses

will be supplied by our Society on any desired subject in literature, history, science or art. Such courses include a series of from six to ten systematic lectures, accompanied by class discussions, written exercises and examinations.

Our Work is Absolutely Unsectarian

people of all races and all creeds sharing alike in the benefits of our free classes and lectures throughout the city.

English	Spanish	Armenian
German	Negro	Roumanian
Hebrew	Russian	Norwegian
Irish	Polish	Danish
Italian	Hungarian	Swiss
French	Austrian	Greek
Scotch	Bohemian	Swedish

Gifts of Cloth and Other Material

for use in our free classes in sewing, dressmaking, embroidery, millinery, crochet, etc., will be gladly received, as the pupils in many of our classes are too poor to furnish the necessary materials, even where our Society pays the teachers' salary.

Orders May Be Sent to Us

for baskets, rugs and crochetted baby shoes, hats and jackets and ladies' vests to be made by pupils in our classes.

The Need of an Endowment

An endowment fund is needed to place the work of this Society upon an assured basis, where it will be in a position not only to continue all important classes as long as they are needed, but also to extend the benefits of its work by starting new free classes in practical manual and domestic training in response to urgent appeals that are received from different tenement districts of the city.

Our good friend, Mr. Jacob A. Riis, who has known about the value and success of our classes for many years, was asked by a business man whether he considered our Society worthy of a contribution. Mr. Riis wrote in reply: "I do not know of any better work anywhere. It ought to have an endowment of a million dollars."

Supported by Voluntary Contributions

The work of this Society is supported by voluntary contributions, and gifts of any amount will be appreciated, as money is urgently needed.

Twenty-five dollars supports free lessons for twelve normal children or six crippled children for three months. One hundred dollars supports such a class for an entire year.

Checks to aid our work should be sent to the Secretary and Treasurer, J. Eugene Whitney, at the office of this Society, 105 East 17th Street, New York City.

We Give Our Hearty Thanks

THE ELOQUENCE OF RESULTS

Harlem Hospital, 136th Street and Lenox Avenue, Dr. Arthur S. Unger, Orthopedic Surgeon.

"Permit me to thank you for giving us the most valuable services of Mr. Henry Steigner, who has charge of the corrective physical exercises at Harlem Hospital.

Due to his valuable services the patients have derived untold benefit."

Free Industrial School for Crippled Children, 471 West 57th Street, Mrs. Bullard, Superintendent.

"Our crippled boys take intense interest in the cobbling class you are furnishing us and show marked improvement after each lesson. Your teacher has the best of discipline which is necessary to make such a success of the work.

We find the cobbling class a great saving to us as the boys are able to repair the shoes of all the other children in the school."

The Charity Organization Society (Corlears District), Miss A. M. Decker, District Secretary.

"The help you have given us has been greatly appreciated, and the lectures given our mothers by your doctor have been very helpful.

We hope to avail ourselves of your kind co-operation in the future."

The New York Colored Mission, 225 West 30th Street, in its Annual Report for 1911, says, (Page 11):

"The People's University Extension Society: through our friend, its Secretary, Mr. J. Eugene Whitney, has again most kindly helped to make our industrial and educational classes possible."

New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children, 141 West 61st Street, Mrs. A. Louise Erlanger, President.

"I wish to thank your society for the benefit our crippled children have received from the corrective physical exercises taught by the teacher you kindly gave us during the winter. We are all indeed most grateful."

Young Women's Hebrew Association, 1578 Lexington Avenue, Miss Harriet Silverman, President.

"Our 'Mothers' Aid' has asked me to extend to you its unanimous vote of thanks for the course of lectures on First Aid to the Injured kindly furnished by your Society. lectures were so thorough and so practical, besides being interesting, that nothing but good can result.

I count it one of the best things we have done, thanks to you."

Wilkes Dispensary of St. Mary's Hospital, 435 Ninth Avenue, Superintendent, Lucy K. Kenan.

"I wish to acknowledge the splendid services of your teacher of corrective physical training for crippled children in our clinic the past year.

We appreciate what you have done for us in giving us

these invaluable free lessons to help our work."

Mission of Our Lady of Loretto, 303 Elizabeth Street, The Rev. Father Walsh.

"I feel greatly indebted to The People's University Extension Society, and to you personally as Secretary, for your interest and help in our endeavor to better the condition of these poor people by teaching their children how to make their homes better.

Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases, 1915 Madison Avenue, Dr. Henry W. Frauenthal, Surgeon in Chief.

"Allow me to express to you the sincere thanks of our Board of Directors, as well as my personal appreciation of your kindness in giving us the most valuable services of your instructor in corrective physical exercises, Mr. Steigner, who has made the class for treatment of flat feet in our Hospital a grand success."

Public School No. 12, Madison and Jackson Streets, Elsie W. Kornman, Principal.

"May I express my appreciation of the work of your successful instructor in the correction of speech defects in this school, and thank your Society for your generous support of this work?

"The work has been most helpful and it is a pleasure to

Vanderbilt Clinic of College of Physicians and Surgeons, 60th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, Dr. Charles H. Jaeger, Orthopedic Surgeon.

"The work in corrective physical exercise done by your instructor, Mr. Steigner, in the Orthopedic departments of the German Hospital and Vanderbilt Clinic the past year has been highly satisfactory.

We thank you for the co-operation of your splendid

Society."

Kennedy House, 423 West 43rd Street, Rev. J. Paul Dresser, Headworker.

"Our successful millinery class was made possible through the kind co-operation of the People's University Extension Society, to which Society we are also indebted for the valuable help of a sewing teacher who is a great standby in our sewing school.

We are very grateful for this generous co-operation."

Murray Hill Mothers Club, Flushing, N. Y., Mrs. Elsie J. Smith, President.

"I am anxious to express to you how charmed and delighted all the mothers present (and there were one hundred) were with the address of your physician, Dr. Barbour. It gave each one of them food for thought. We earnestly hope you will help us again by sending the doctor to give another lecture for us soon." German Poliklinik, Second Avenue and 8th Street, Dr. Dexter D. Ashley, Orthopedic Surgeon.

"I wish to assure you that we greatly appreciate the fine work of your instructor in corrective physical training for crippled children in the Orthopedic department of our Hospital, and we thank you very much for your kind help. We hope you will continue to give the same valuable free classes to aid us."

Hebrew Educational Society, Pitkin Avenue and Watkins Street, Brooklyn, A. Feldblum, Secretary.

"At a meeting of our Board of Directors it was unanimously resolved that I express on behalf of the Board, its sincere thanks for your most helpful and generous co-operation in our work.

We fully appreciate that your assistance has been most valuable and could not well have been dispensed with.

We hope we may continue to rely upon your co-operation in the future."

Home for Friendless Women and Children, 20 Concord Street, Brooklyn, Mrs. Alexander Cook.

"At the meeting of our Board of Managers it was voted to send you a sincere vote of thanks for the great assistance and pleasure given our girls by the fine teacher generously given us by your Society. We trust for the renewal of your help next season."

Industrial School No. 1, 215 Concord Street, Brooklyn.

"We wish to thank you most gratefully for the valuable lecture of the very efficient doctor you sent to speak to our Mothers' Meeting. Her address was most excellent, and was understood and appreciated highly by these ignorant mothers. They never had listened to anything of the kind before and a new world of thought was opened to them on the proper care of their babies and homes."

Brooklyn's First Free Kindergarten, 637 President Street, Brooklyn, Miss Bertha N. Lamb.

"We all feel deeply indebted to your Society for the embroidery lessons for our mothers. The lessons were greatly appreciated by our women and the results were more than gratifying." Methodist Episcopal Hospital, 7th Avenue and 6th Street, Brooklyn, Miss Betsy L. Harris, Supervisor of Nurses.

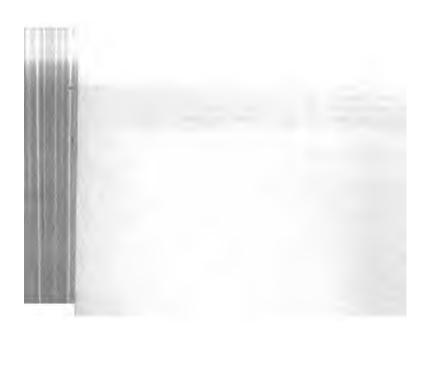

"We feel very grateful to your Society for sending your experienced instructor to teach corrective physical exercises to our nurses. He has been most faithful and untiring in his efforts and has aided us greatly in our instruction in our training school for nurses.

If possible we hope you will help us in the same way

Lakeview Home (Reformatory for Girls), Arrochar, S. I., Mrs. Mary Graham Young.

"I feel that I must report to you the great success and benefit resulting from the manual training lessons given at Lakeview Home by your teacher, that you may share in the satisfaction we of the executive committee and all interested feel owing to your generosity and admirable selection of a teacher."

Help to Self-Help for the People

REPORT OF

The People's University Extension Society OF NEW YORK

Fifteenth Year, ending January 24th, 1913

The Fifteenth Year

of our Society has been the most successful in its history.

We have been able to carry on a larger number of specially important classes than in any previous year because our receipts have for the first time passed the $25,000 mark.

The Purely Co-operative Nature of our work explains how we are able to conduct so large a number of free classes with the very moderate amount of money at our disposal.

The entire amount paid by our Society for rent is only $264 a year for the office where the administrative work is done.

All the rent of the hundreds of rooms where our classes are conducted, as well as the heating, lighting and janitors' services, are paid for by the other institutions that ask us to send our trained teachers to give instruction to classes of their young people.

The Educational Work of Our Society

may be broadly divided into the following departments:

First. Training tenement mothers and other women and girls in the essentials of hygiene and sanitation, care of children, treatment of common accidents, prevention of disease, including tuberculosis and other infectious diseases.

Second, Teaching all branches of manual training to poor children of all races, thus giving them a taste for hand work and starting them in the way of practical self-support.

Fourth, Special classes in corrective physical exercises and suitable hand work for crippled children, to improve their bodily condition and fit them to help support themselves if necessary.

Fifth. Special classes for girls in reformatories giving practical training in dressmaking, millinery, embroidery, cooking, etc., thus fitting them to get good situations when they are released from such institutions.

Sixth, Special classes for the correction of stammering and other speech defects that seriously interfere with the progress of many otherwise bright children.

Seventh, Special classes for mentally defective children, who are taught attractive forms of hand work that stimulate and develop sluggish brains.

Eighth, Special classes for the blind in simple forms of hand work like basketry, weaving, knitting and braiding rugs, that furnish interesting occupation and enable them to earn money by making articles for sale.

Many New Institutions

have appealed to us to help them by giving free classes in manual and domestic training in their rooms, for the benefit of the poor children of their neighborhood who are eager to learn such subjects.

We have been glad to co-operate with such institutions as far as our limited funds would permit, but we need largely increased contributions to enable us to respond to all the urgent appeals we receive for free classes each year.

The Extremely Practical Nature

of our classes in self-help for tenement children in the city, has commended our work so strongly to business men that many of them have generously increased their usual yearly contributions.

One business man who is deeply interested in teaching manual training to the children was forced by business reverses to reduce his usual contribution in 1911. In sending in his check for 1912 recently, he sent his full regular donation, and then added enough to make good his forced reduction the previous year.

One Boston Banker,

who started in sending us $25 a year from a newspaper notice of our free classes that he saw some years ago, wrote us June 8, 1912, sending check for $100 and saying: "From a friend in New York City to whom I wrote relative to your work I have received such a favorable report that I am minded to increase my donation this year."

Many of the Institutions We Help

are poor churches of all creeds, Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew, that are supplied by us with teachers of manual and domestic training for their young people, and who could not carry on such classes at all without our aid.

The pastor's wife of one of these churches, the Ascension Memorial, writes us, "I consider the People's University Extension Society one of the best institutions in the city. Many classes we could not have had only for their kind assistance."

People of All Races and All Creeds

are equally welcome to share the benefits of our free classes and lectures throughout the city.

The principal races represented in our classes have been:

English	French	Bohemian	Norwegian
German	Hungarian	Polish	Danish
Hebrew	Austrian	Spanish	Swiss
Irish	Negro	Armenian	Greck
Scotch	Russian	Roumanian	Swedish
Italian

The Orthopedic Surgeons

at all the hospitals where we have been furnishing free classes in corrective physical training for the relief of crippled children, have asked us to continue the work and have expressed their appreciation of the great benefits derived from it.

Nurses Who Visit the Public Schools

send many of the school children who need corrective physical exercises into our nearest classes in that subject for treatment.

Dr. Arthur S. Unger of Harlem Hospital,

writes, "Your instructor, Mr. Steigner, has conducted classes in corrective physical exercises at my clinic in Harlem Hospital during the past year and has been a great factor in helping the poor unfortunates who come under my care. We thank your Society for its efforts in this field of charity."

Many Crippled Children

who have been obliged to wear iron braces of some kind, have been able to leave off the braces with the consent of the orthopedic surgeons, after having received a thorough course of training in one of our special classes in corrective physical exercises. These exercises not only develop and strengthen the deficient parts directly by use of the muscles, but also give tone and vigor to the entire body, thus improving the circulation and furnishing more nutrition to build up and strengthen the weak portions.

A Nine Year Old Girl,

the arches of whose feet had fallen, was sent by a physician of the New York Polyclinic Hospital into one of our classes in corrective exercises at that institution to receive instruction in special movements for strengthening the feet until the time when foot braces could be secured for her.

Her work in the class so strengthened her feet that the doctor decided she would not need braces at all.

Mr. Kortum, Supt. of German Hospital,

writes us, "We feel deeply indebted to your Society for the continuance of your instruction in corrective physical exercises for cripples in our institution.

The work is being carried on under the able tuition of your instructor, Mr. Steigner, and the improvement in individual cases is so positive as to warrant our testimony of what you accomplish in your purpose.

"I would consider it a great loss if we had to do without the instruction, and I voice in this matter the opinion of all who are working with us."

A Remarkable Case at German Hospital

is a boy of eleven sent to the class by one of the nurses from a public school. He has had one arm paralyzed since birth, a condition known as obstetric paralysis.

When the boy came to the class he could with great effort reach the belt of his trousers. In one year he has so improved that he can get his fingers to his mouth. He boasts that if he can get up so far in one year, he can reach the top of his head in another year.

Dr. Henry Keller of Roosevelt Hospital,

who is a specialist in orthopedic surgery, has seen so much benefit from our classes in corrective physical exercises in the New York Polyclinic Hospital that he requested us to start two such free classes for crippled children in Roosevelt Hospital. We have begun one class and another will begin as soon as the doctors have the children ready for it.

Cure of Tubercular Tendency.

A boy of eleven was sent to one of our free classes in corrective physical exercises by the physician in one of the dispensaries of the city. The boy had been coughing for eleven months, was losing weight and had indicated a general tubercular tendency.

Three weeks after he began the breathing and general gentle exercises, his cough stopped. The first month he gained four pounds in weight. The doctor was so pleased with the boy's improvement that he took him to another hospital where he held a clinic, and had the boy show his exercises to the other doctors. The boy is now entirely well and has been discharged from the dispensary.

Dr. Dexter D. Allen, Orthopedic Surgeon

of the German Polyclinic writes us, "I wish to assure you that the very helpful work of your instructor of corrective physical exercises for cripples at our institution is very greatly appreciated."

The Hospital for Deformities and Joint Diseases

has been given a number of classes in corrective physical exercises for the cure of weak and flat feet, in response to the request of Dr. Henry W. Frauenthal, Surgeon-in-chief of that institution.

Dr. Frauenthal writes us "I wish to state that the instruction furnished by your Society has been a great aid in the department for weak and flat feet. I heartily thank you for the efficient way in which the corrective exercises have been taught by your instructor, fully realizing the marked benefit derived from them by the patient in being able to do them at home, thus expediting cure and placing patients in a position of resuming their occupations and earning their livelihood."

An Evening Class in Corrective Exercises.

There has been, heretofore, no way to accommodate the children who have to discontinue attending our classes in corrective exercises because they are obliged to go to work, and whose earnings are too small to permit them to take any time off to go to their class during the day.

To meet this need, we have secured the use of a suitable room at the Warren Goddard House, 246 E. 34th St., which is conveniently located for all the pupils, and there we have started an evening class for working girls who need corrective physical training. As soon as possible a similar class will be started for working boys.

It is hoped, with the assistance of the young people themselves, and the interest of friends, to make these classes self-supporting, as the demands upon our Society are already so great.

In order that pupils may be admitted from different hospitals these classes are not held in a hospital, and pupils may remain under the medical supervision of their regular doctors, while for those without a doctor one will be provided who will volunteer supervision of such cases.

The Mother Superior

of the House of Annunciation for crippled and incurable children reports that the boys in our free chair-caning class at that place have done such good work that they now cane all the chairs for their institution and have earned money by doing caning for people outside.

She also says that the girls have been greatly benefited by our class in garment making. One of the larger girls has become such an expert in sewing that she not only makes her own dresses but has made a good many neat and pretty dresses for the little girls, sometimes out of pieces of cloth that have been given to them.

At the Darrach Home for Crippled Children

our classes in sewing, drawing and corrective exercises have met with such success that the secretary writes us as follows. "The managers of the Darrach Home wish to express to you their sincere gratitude for the work you are doing among our crippled children. The sewing and drawing classes have shown marked improvement.

"All the children enjoy the corrective physical exercises and they have been wonderfully benefited by them. Not only the children but the managers want the People's University Extension Society to know that they are doing a great work and making many hours of happiness for the little cripples. We thank you heartily for the kind interest you have shown "

Our Society Has Given Crippled Children

the following lessons during the year with an average attendance of seven pupils at each lesson:

A Large Class for Teachers and Principals

from the public schools was held at P. S. 177 for a thorough course of combined lectures and practical lessons on physical education, including corrective exercises.

The class was conducted by our director of corrective exercises, Mr. Steigner, who gave the teachers special hints that would be useful in the school room.

Miss Maude Rollins Osborne, President of the Professional League of Teachers, writes us very appreciatively about the course. She says: "The suggestions that Mr. Steigner gave the class were of great practical value. Often when the pressure of other work prevented a principal or teacher from attending, she was represented by another, and thus the influence of the work spread. We thank you heartily for giving us Mr. Steigner's services."

Our Co-operation with Lincoln Hospital

in its work for blind and crippled colored people has been of the most successful and satisfactory character.

The occupation work provided originally as a diversion for the old people in the wards has gradually become an industry. Most of the work now done is salable and during the last year a large number of baskets, mats, woven-pillow covers and rag rugs have been completed. All the chair caning of the hospital is done by the old people.

There are now two good-sized looms in operation in the workshop, both of them of solid hickory and more than a hundred years old. One is operated by a blind man who was one of the first pupils in chair caning and basketry. The other is used by two or three men, but chiefly by an old Virginia negro, who in his childhood hovered about the "loomhouse" where homespun was woven for more than one hundred negroes on the old plantation.

The old women are much interested in weaving, and cutting and sewing rags is an occupation for a number of them who had been quite a problem for the occupation teacher because they were too old and awkward to make baskets. One or two who are in bed most of the time are able to sew rags and the woman who makes the cleverest arrangement of color sewing has not been out of bed in a year. Working with the bright colored pieces is a great pleasure and comfort to her.

Many workers in basketry have evolved new types of decoration, one woman confining herself to birds and butterflies. Recently she has varied this by introducing a design of a blue-bottle fly.

One man has made a specialty of melon-shaped baskets for fruits or flowers. Work baskets of various designs are very popular and glass-bottomed trays sell well. One man with a fractured spine and one useless hand makes quaint doll's furniture. He has to tie his wheel chair to the bench in order to work with his one good hand.

Special Classes for the Blind

The greatest help we can give the incurably blind is to teach them to use their hands in an interesting and profitable manner. Miss Helen Keller has expressed the pathos of her own blindness and that of others when she said: "The heaviest burden on the blind is not their blindness, but idleness. Opportunity to work is the boon the blind ask of their fellowmen."

Our free classes for the blind are in simple forms of handwork in which some of them soon show surprising efficiency. We have many specimens of remarkably good work in our office made by blind pupils.

We gave the blind free lessons last year as follows:

Basketry	300	lessons
Beadwork Knitting	156	"
Sewing	120	"
Embroidery	36 120	"
Weaving	204	"

The Correction of Speech Defects

is progressing successfully in our special free classes in several of the New York Public Schools.

Principal Mary F. Maguire, of Public School No. 3, writes us:

"I wish to thank you for sending your instructor to work with our children who have speech defects.

"I feel that they are gaining a great deal from his lessons and I notice marked improvement in their speech."

At Public School No. 4, Bronx,

we have recently started two new classes in the correction of speech defects at the request of the principal, Mr. Angelo Patri. In each class teachers are sent to receive the training with the pupils so that they can continue the instruction throughout the week.

The principal writes us:

"I beg to thank you for having responded to our call for help by sending us Mr. Henry Steigner to teach the correction of speech defects. I feel that his work will prove of great benefit to the teachers who are observing him and to the pupils whom he teaches. We try not to lose the effect of his work, by having specially assigned teachers take up the work on days when Mr. Steigner cannot be with us. In addition, we try to extend the influence of his work to the routine of the every day program."

At Public School No. 12, Manhattan,

we have continued our class for the correction of speech defects, in accordance with the request of the principal, Miss E. W. Kornman, who writes: "Permit me to express my appreciation of, and my thanks for, the services of Mr. Steigner, which the children with speech defects have had the benefit of, thanks to your generosity.

"Mr. Steigner's work has been very valuable."

A Girl of Seven Who Had Never Spoken

was brought to one of our free classes in the correction of speech defects last summer. The case was a most discouraging one as the child had undergone much treatment but had never learned to speak a word. In early infancy she had sustained a very severe shock to which her condition was attributed.

Our instructor has succeeded in teaching the little girl to use her vocal organs so that she is speaking many words, can count and say her letters, name colors, etc. She is now able to give such evidence of her ability to speak that she has been admitted to the kindergarten and is progressing finely.

This Case is One of the Most Remarkable

in our teacher's experience and is of more farreaching importance than the correction of her speechlessness implies.

In the first place, her parents had been led to believe the child mentally defective and had planned to place her in a school for defective children in a New Jersey city. The sight of the serious condition of the other children in that school made the mother so afraid of the possible consequences to her own child from association with such children that she tried our class as a last hope.

If the parents had placed the child in the school for defectives referred to, the father, who is a lettercarrier, would have had to be transferred to the city where the school is situated, as their means were insufficient to send the child to the school in any other way.

They are now living in a small town where they are buying a home on time payments. To move to the nearby city would have necessitated sacrificing the home they are trying to get. This family belongs to the great body of self-respecting people who are anxious to help themselves to the limit of their ability and who are unwilling to take advantage of any assistance if they can possibly avoid i

In our free class for the correction of speec defects this child continues to improve in speec and is exceedingly bright in her work. Her teacher in the kindergarten are helping her each day alon lines suggested by our vocal instructor, thus makin her progress more rapid, and her parents have no been uprooted from the home where their chance to improve their condition are most favorable.

The Neurological Institute

is taking advantage of the opportunity affords by our free classes for the correction of speed defects, by sending such cases from their instit tion to our classes for treatment, accompanied each case by a special letter of explanation from their experienced psychologist, Mr. Ellis.

Our Classes for Mental Defectives

in various attractive forms of hand work I been most successful in stimulating the slug minds of these unfortunate children. Our tear have again been able to demonstrate the truth hand and brain are best developed together.

Reformatory Work for Girls

The most important practical help for girls in reformatories is to give them thorough training in domestic science and art, thus fitting them to obtain good situations and earn a comfortable living when they are released from the institutions where they are committed by the courts.

There is no question but the majority of those who are in the reformatories get there because they never were taught skill in any kind of work that would enable them to support themselves.

We find such girls take genuine interest in the classes in cooking, dressmaking, embroidery, millinery, etc., given by our teachers in reformatories throughout the city, and the improvement in their manners is usually as gratifying as their progress in their work.

In the Florence Crittenton Mission

we have helped their reformatory work for girls and women from the streets and those committed by the courts, by giving them attractive courses of lessons in domestic science and art taught by some of our most inspiring teachers. The Supt., Miss Margaret E. Luther, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of the work done by your teachers in our institution. I consider the work very successful and it has meant so much to our girls. I know of nothing that has been done for them that they appreciate so much themselves."

2.434 Free Lessons to Girls

in reformatories were given during the year with an average attendance of fourteen pupils at each lesson. The subjects taught were as follows:

Embroidery	264	lessons
Cooking	204	**
Sewing		66
Millinery		66
Flower Making		44
Garment Making		44
Dressmaking		44
Physical Training		44

The Power of Carpentry Classes

to attract the street boys and enlarge the attendance to the maximum number that the teacher can handle efficiently, is very often illustrated.

Miss Bowles, headworker of the Warren Goddard House, writes that in our carpentry class at that settlement "the class is crowded and overflowing, 23 boys, and a large number of others would like to join if there was room."

On the Bellevue Tuberculosis Boat

we have had a class in carpentry for men from the hospital wards who are able to live out doors most of the time. They were much interested in carpentry and made good progress.

One man who has been disabled for four years, but is now improving physically, had never handled a tool in his life. He took to the work with keen interest and after ten days he had learned to do such good work that he made a very nice foot-stool.

A Very Dull Colored Boy

was the most unpromising member of one of our carpentry classes. The boy was so stupid our teacher never expected to make anything of him. Hand work, however, will stimulate and brighten sluggish brains and the boy finally surprised our teacher by bringing to the class a diagram of a signal box he had seen in a daily paper and wanted to make. Our teacher of course encouraged him to go on and make the box, which he did successfully and he has become one of the best workers in the class.

1,596 lessons in carpentry were given during the year with an average of more than 12 boys at each lesson.

Basketry Classes

have been large and enthusiastic during the year, a total of 2,052 lessons having been given with an average attendance of more than 16.

At the Hebrew Educational Society

a boy in our basketry class learned to make such fine baskets that his father bought supplies for him and he has worked up quite a little business for himself in making and selling baskets.

In Our Basketry and Chair Caning Class

at the Old First Presbyterian Church one of the boys has become so expert a workman that our teacher informs us he has been engaged as instructor of basketry and chair caning in an industrial school.

One of Our Manual Training Teachers Writes:

"There are few of our classes where money is not earned by some of the pupils on the sale of their work. In most classes there are two or three at least who are at work on orders for someone and who use the money earned for the purchase of necessary clothes."

At the Brooklyn Orphan Asylum

where we have given a good deal of help by supplying experienced teachers in manual and domestic training, the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary J. Meserole, writes: "I am more than glad to inform you that the work carried on for us by the teachers sent by your society is highly satisfactory in every way. The children show great interest and progress. We thank you gratefully for your splendid aid."

Our Classes in Cobbling

have been successful in every case and many of the boys have made surprising progress.

Our cobbling teacher reports that the boys show marked improvement in work and discipline. They are also more willing and are especially generous in helping one another and in repairing shoes for the young children.

He says, "The boys have learned to cut and repair shoes and do excellent work, and they have made marked progress in sewing. Four of the boys that we had trouble in getting to settle down to work when the classes opened, have now come to be our best boys and most regular in attendance. We have been told by some of the parents that this is the best charity they have had in this district, saving them much money for repairs and keeping their boys off the streets."

Many times the teacher has difficulty in closing his lessons because the boys get so deeply interested they want to keep on with the work.

Our Classes in Five Points Mission

in the famous old criminal district, have been very successful for several years. All of our classes there are teaching the most practical forms of self-help and the eagerness to learn shown by the pupils is very encouraging.

Rev. Dr. Belcher, in charge of the mission, writes, "The teachers you have furnished for our industrial work have been extremely satisfactory and the work accomplished, when you consider the small children we have who are entirely of foreign parentage, little less than marvelous.

"Especially is this true in cobbling where the class does a good part of our mending for the mission, and the class in carpentry in which a proficiency in handling tools and making neat designs is very marked.

"Perhaps the evening class in dressmaking among the older girls does the best work of all. There they cut, fit and make their own clothes, and many of the dresses worn on Sunday during the past summer were made by the girls in this class. Add to that the ability they have acquired to mend and keep neat, which is one of the greatest benefits of the class. The class in printing has done equally good work. We heartily appreciate your invaluable help in our work."

Classes in Economic Cooking

have been large and enthusiastic the past year, the increasing cost of living serving to emphasize the importance of this most practical subject.

In our cooking classes the girls are taught economy in the selection of the kinds of food that give the greatest nutritive value for the money. Then they are taught the best methods of cooking to make the food appetizing and readily digestible.

Usually a regular meal is prepared at each lesson, and the pupils are taught the art of setting the table daintily and attractively, and incidentally, they learn table manners.

Not the least of the benefits of a cooking class is the training the girls receive in cleaning up everything with scrupulous care after a meal, so that all dishes and utensils may be in perfect order and ready to use at the next lesson.

In Many of Our Cooking Classes

there are young girls who have to help about the cooking at home and some of them do all the home cooking, so that they are naturally very eager to learn new and better methods of cooking, and how to prepare a greater variety of attractive dishes at a low cost.

The Saving of Waste

is emphasized throughout our cooking classes. Pupils are taught how to prepare a variety of very nutritious and palatable soups from scraps of all sorts of meats and vegetables, as the thrifty housewives of France and Germany do. Stale bread is frequently thrown away in large pieces by poor families when it can be made into delicious toast, bread pudding or used in soups and in other ways. Not a particle of food need ever be thrown away if one understands the art of economic cooking.

The Walworth Club of Working Girls

reports that the most successful class their club ever had is the class in economic cooking furnished by our Society.

Their secretary writes that the results have been most helpful and satisfactory, many of the married pupils now having homes of their own where they put into constant practical use all that they learned in the class.

Training Colored Boys to be Cooks

has proved very successful work with us for years, especially in our classes at the New York Colored Mission and Henrietta Evening Trade School for Negroes.

Many of the graduates of our advanced cooking classes have secured good situations as chefs on Pullman cars and steamships, and others are working in restaurants.

These classes are particularly valuable for colored boys because cooking is one of the few kinds of work in which there is very little race prejudice against them, and they can therefore secure good situations quite easily.

1,896 Lessons in Economic Cooking

were given the past year with an average attendance of more than twelve pupils.

Large Meals for Little Money

is a little book on economic cooking prepared by Miss Florence Kendrick Johnson, of our office, and published by our Society as a manual and syllabus for use by our teachers and pupils in elementary classes.

The book is so simple and practical that it is praised by all who have used it. While the chemical studies of Prof. Atwater and other authorities have been used in arranging the dietaries so as to have well-balanced meals of tissue building and energy producing foods, the language is simple and scientific terms are avoided.

Bills of fare are given for good palatable meals that should cost about 85 cents a day for a family of five persons.

Our Classes for Colored Girls

at Stillman Settlement House of the Henry Street Settlement have proved so successful that the girls have become quiet, orderly and enthusiastic in their work.

The director of Stillman House, Miss I. Anna Morgan, writes us that they have the credit of having the best hand work of 47 summer schools, and she adds, "This, of course, is due to your Society and your efficient teachers."

We have been furnishing practical classes at Stillman House in economic cooking, laundry work, general housekeeping, mending, knitting, basketry, chair caning and cord work.

The New York Colored Mission

has been helped by us with practical classes in manual and domestic training ever since we started a class in economic cooking for their girls twelve years ago.

The colored girls show such interest in learning sewing and dressmaking that a class which began with fourteen members has increased to twenty-two. The girls are also learning millinery and making ribbon flowers with encouraging success.

The boys are finding enjoyment and profit in our class in carpentry which started with ten boys and has grown to an attendance of eighteen, who are doing good work and learning to handle tools with skill.

Miss Alice M. Hall, Supt. of the New York Colored Mission, writes us, "I can confidently assure you that the help you are giving us in our work is thoroughly appreciated.

Classes for Little Housekeepers

in the elementary work of home making always arouse such interest in the little girls, both white and colored, that the attendance is as large as can be handled by the teacher. The girls learn to help keep the house clean, to cook, darn, mend, and do light laundry work, and all the work is made so attractive that they enjoy these classes more than most others.

Miss Boyden, of Jacob A. Riis Settlement, writes: "We certainly are most appreciative of your help with our classes of little housekeepers. The attendance is very satisfactory, the average in each group being 25 out of 29 on the roll. It is interesting to hear how the different girls 'helped mother' in the little duties about the house, and it is through these confidences that we learn what good the classes are doing."

Miss Emerson, of the Walton Kindergarten for colored children, writes: "Your housekeeping class for our girls is the one class that always has the highest average for attendance and payment of dues. Our society would be quite unable to do this work without your help and we heartily appreciate your ever-ready co-operation.

A Young Girl in Our Laundry Class

at Little Mother's Aid Association learned to do fancy ironing and has secured a good situation as a presser of fancy lace collars in an establishment.

At the Italian Industrial School

where we are co-operating in conducting classes in power machine sewing and garment making the classes are so successful that the attendance has increased until there are more than twenty pupils present at each lesson. The quality of the work done is so good that many of the girls have secured situations with large establishments.

Our Classes for Hebrew Boys and Girls

are always extremely successful as the children of that race are unusually eager to learn and they possess rare powers of concentration.

One of our teachers writes: "I find my class of Hebrew girls full of ambition and enterprise. They do not think anything in the line of dressmaking too hard for them to accomplish, and have great confidence in themselves, which helps the teacher wonderfully. One quite remarkable feature of this class in dressmaking is that it opened with eight pupils and the next lesson six more joined. From that night on every girl has been present for every class and always in line waiting for the doors to open, all kinds of weather, making a perfect attendance."

in Our Large Sewing Class

at the Woman's Branch of Brooklyn City Mission he work has been so successful that Miss Raphael, of that society, writes us: "The children sew better han any set of children that ever came under my care.

"One of the gingham dresses made by a girl at the sewing class attracted the attention of the girl's public school teacher, who wanted to know who had made the beautiful dress by hand."

One Little Irish Girl

in one of our dressmaking classes had such trouble making her first petticoat that she was completely liscouraged. Every seam she made had to be ripped out and made over until the teacher feared the girl hought she was spitefully critical.

At last the teacher whispered to her, "Mollie, come back next time and see what we can both do it it. I will run a race with you at sewing seams o see which can keep the straightest seam." That relped Mollie out of her troubles and now she is naking a very pretty garment with every seam carefully and neatly done. The one troublesome betticoat with its much ripped seams changed Mollie from a slap-dash worker into a careful, painstaking one.

A Spirit of Helpfulness

and the desire to make things for others is cultivated as much as possible by our teachers. Before Christmas the children are delightfully busy making gifts for their relatives and friends.

One little girl who had been learning simple sewing was making a dusting cap and our teacher heard her say to one of her classmates, "I've never given mother a Christmas present before, but I'm sure she will be pleased with this one. She always wears a rag around her head when she sweeps and this cap will be so much neater. I want to make her an apron, too, when I can, for she needs one."

One of Our Large Sewing Classes

is composed of mothers and girls. The mothers bring their old skirts and coats and make them over into little trousers and blouses for the small children.

The girls are making their own clothes of all kinds, including underclothes, business dresses and prettier dresses for special occasions.

One German mother who never had sewed a garment before and who had not the faintest idea about cutting cloth from a pattern soon became one of the most ambitious workers in the class.

A girl of eighteen in this class, after a talk by the teacher on "making over things," went home and hunted over her mother's old dresses of her younger days and found a silk dress as old as herself, but still in good condition. This she ripped up and remade with the teacher's advice into a very pretty party dress. She is so proud of this dress that she will make over more of her mother's old treasures into nice new dresses for herself and sister for some time to come.

229 Garments Were Finished

by the girls of one class in machine sewing in one term of lessons. This included dresses, petticoats, shirtwaists, gymnasium suits, underclothing, etc.

The Most Remarkable Record

of attendance during the year was at our very large class in sewing and raffia work at Doyers Street Mission, 5 Doyers St., in the Chinatown district.

Out of a total enrollment of 46 children, 32 never missed a lesson, and 6 only missed one lesson, making an average attendance of 43% out of a possible 46.

Several Women in the Sewing Classes

who do housework during the day are able to earn extra money by bringing sewing for other people to the classes, where with the teacher's help they can do very good work.

4,632 Sewing Lessons

were given the past year with an average attendance of eleven pupils.

In dressmaking, 1.958 lessons were given to classes averaging twelve pupils.

is a very simple, practical booklet of 32 pages prepared by our assistant secretary, Miss Florence K. Johnson, and published by our Society to help those conducting elementary sewing classes.

This booklet explains the serious evils of the old system of fine sewing for little girls and gives full details of our improved coarse sewing system, which has been in successful operation for years.

The Journal of Home Economics says of it: "This little book promises to be an excellent guide to

Embroidery Classes

have been large and enthusiastic the past year and more pupils have been taught than ever before. The interest in this subject has been so strong that our teachers have often been obliged to handle numbers that taxed their ability to the utmost, the attendance being sometimes as large as 28 in one class.

In one embroidery class four of the pupils never missed a lesson nor were late during the entire year.

The Power of Interesting Indifferent Pupils

is one of the most important qualities of the successful teacher and is constantly illustrated in the work of our teachers throughout the city.

The secretary of a large Girl's Friendly Society wrote us a few days ago that some of their girls who never could be induced to take any interest in needlework have become strongly interested in our embroidery class and are making excellent progress.

Crocheting and Knitting

including Irish crochet, are old subjects that have been growing more popular in recent years, especially among the older girls and women.

A large number of useful and salable articles can be crocheted and this sort of work is excellent training in accurate, skillful use of the hands and in the value of scrupulous cleanliness.

In one class of young working women, seventy-one crocheted articles were made in six weeks. One of the girls who was very diffident at first and showed little interest has developed greatly and learned to do such beautiful work that she is making an Irish crochet collar that will be worth ten dollars.

Several of the most successful crocheting classes have an average attendance of about 25 members.

A Girl of Ten in a Crocheting Class

asked our teacher if she might make a cap for a little friend whose father was out of work and her mother unable to work. She brought her own red worsted to the class and made the cap so that her little friend had it to wear during the cold weather.

792 lessons in crocheting were given during the year with an average attendance of more than fourteen pupils.

Tenement Mothers Appreciate the Lectures

that are given in a simple practical way by our doctors and teachers, and often keep the speaker busy for some time after the lecture answering questions and explaining special points.

They have very intelligent mothers that meet at the New York Training School for Teachers and we are asked to send our speakers to address them. Miss Blanche Bosworth, of the Training School, wrote to one of our doctors, Dr. Isabelle Delaney Barbour: "Our mothers are looking forward eagerly to hearing you, as was manifested by thirty-five of them appearing in the terrible storm in November."

An Enthusiastic Mother

who had received great benefit from the study of our leaflet of "Health Hints," told one of our doctors she thought the leaflet ought to be used in every public school from the Board of Health and often refuse to have necessary treatment and operations for nasal or throat deformities, etc.

Ignorant Mothers Are Afraid of Doctors

Our doctors, fortunately, do not find the same prejudice and are able to get them to follow their advice. After the first lecture one of our doctors gave to the mothers at a school many women were induced to have their children's throats properly treated, and the next time they saw the doctor they were loud in their praises of the results obtained and the improvement of the children in health and in progress in school.

One little deformed woman who had heard one of our doctors talk on First Aid In Common Accidents, was able to put out a fire in her rooms as a result of the teaching received. She was at first very much frightened and nearly helpless. Then it came to her that the first thing was collectedness and clear thought about the best things to do. Then she seized rugs and smothered the fire.

Auxiliary Number One

consists of a group of young ladies who are interested in the work of our Society, and who give some kind of entertainment each year to raise money to help support some of our free classes.

On Monday evening, April 8th, 1912, they gave a Charity Ball at the Hotel Majestic, at which the net receipts were $131.

The young ladies who managed the ball, with the aid of Mrs. Florence L. Patterson, were:

The Difficulty of Securing Money

to furnish even the most important of the free classes that are earnestly called for and to continue important classes already in operation, has made it necessary for us to study carefully the problem of increasing the average number of pupils in our classes to the maximum that can be handled efficiently by teachers of experience and executive ability. By thus increasing to the utmost the number of pupils who benefit by the instruction in each class without impairing the quality of the work done we make every dollar go so much further in accomplishing results.

The Committee on Prevention of Tuberculosis of the Charity Organization Society

has co-operated with us very cordially in sending lecturers to address meetings of mothers in various parts of the city on this most important subject.

All the Branch Libraries

of the New York Public Library, 36 in number, have been supplied with free copies of our Health Hints for general distribution.

We furnished thirty-five thousand copies of the Health Hints in English, German, Italian, Yiddish and Bohemian, which were placed on the librarian's desk in each library to be taken by those who wished.

The Society for Instruction in First Aid to the Injured

has kindly co-operated with us again the past year and enabled us to give more practical lectures in First Aid than we could have carried on without their help.

Many of Our Classes Are Crowded

and even after our teachers have taken in all who can be accommodated there is still a waiting list left of eager applicants who are admitted in order whenever any vacancies occur in the membership. So few vacancies occur, however, that most of those in the waiting list do not get into the classes during the entire term. What is needed is money to pay teachers to start enough more classes to accommodate all who need instruction.

Gifts of Cloth and Other Material

for use in our free classes in sewing, dressmaking, embroidery, millinery, crochet, etc., will be gladly received, as the pupils in many of our classes are too poor to furnish the necessary materials, even where our Society pays the teachers' salary.

Orders May Be Sent to Us

for baskets, rugs and crochetted baby shoes, hats and jackets and ladies' vests to be made by pupils in our classes.

The Need of an Endowment

An endowment fund is needed to place the work of this Society upon an assured basis, where it will be in a position not only to continue all important classes as long as they are needed, but also to extend the benefits of its work by starting new free classes in practical manual and domestic training in response to urgent appeals that are received from different tenement districts of the city.

Our good friend, Mr. Jacob A. Riis, who has known about the value and success of our classes for many years, was asked by a business man whether he considered our Society worthy of a contribution. Mr. Riis wrote in reply: "I do not know of any better work anywhere. It ought to have an endowment of a million dollars."

The Beginning of an Endowment

has been made during the year by the receipt of a first installment of $6,000, April 30, 1912, from the James Rufus Smith estate, in which our Society is one of the residuary legatees.

The $6,000 was immediately invested in a first mortgage on New York City property, guaranteed title and interest by the Lawyers' Mortgage Co. The guaranteed interest is 4½ per cent.

Supported by Voluntary Contributions

The work of this Society is supported by voluntary contributions, and gifts of any amount will be appreciated, as money is urgently needed.

Twenty-five dollars supports free lessons for twelve normal children or six crippled children for three months. One hundred dollars supports such a class for an entire year. ecks to aid our work should be sent to the etary and Treasurer, J. Eugene Whitney, at office of this Society, 105 East 17th Street, York City.

THE ELOQUENCE OF RESULTS

Chinatown Rescue Settlement for Girls, 10 Mott Street, Miss Annette B. Boardman.

"We thank you for your kindness in sending us a free teacher of cooking who is so much liked by our girls. The girls enjoy the class very much."

New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children, 141 West 61st Street, Mrs. A. L. Erlanger, President.

"I wish to thank you for the corrective physical exercises you have so kindly given to our little ones. They are very much enjoyed by the children and they have derived great benefit from them."

Washington Square Home for Friendless Girls, 9 West 8th St., Miss Caroline Conary, Asst. Supt.

"The teachers from your Society have been remarkably successful in arousing the interest of our girls in class work. We are very grateful for the generous assistance you have given us. The classes have been very helpful and we feel we would be badly crippled if we were obliged to do without them."

Waverly House, of New York Probation Association, 38 West 10th Street, Miss Stella A. Miner, Asst. Secv.

Dr. Ballard's School for Crippled and Mentally Defective Children, 66 Dobbins Street, Brooklyn.

"That we exist at all is due to the very generous help afforded us by The People's University Extension Society of New York, whose generosity in sending us our manual training teacher makes us feel that mere expressions of gratitude are inadequate. There is only one other way for us to show our appreciation at present, and that is by making our school such a success that it will reflect credit on them for the great work they are doing, not only for us, but for hundreds like us that are struggling to do a good work."

Jacob A. Riis Neighborhood Settlement, 48 Henry Street, Miss Charlotte A. Waterbury, Headworker.

"We certainly are most appreciative of your help with our classes of Little Housekcepers. The attendance is very satisfactory this year the average in each group being 25 out of 29 on the roll. It is interesting to hear about how the different ones 'helped mother' in the little duties about the home and it is through these confidences that we learn what good the classes are doing."

Public Education Association, Miss Harriet M. Johnson, Visiting Teacher.

"We have much appreciated your kind cooperation in starting the class in correction of speech defects at P. S. 3."

N. Y. Training School for Teachers, 220 West 120th Street, Miss M. Blanche Bosworth.

"Our Mother's Club greatly enjoyed the talk given by your physician on the Care of Children. Sixty-five mothers attended in addition to the students and teachers of our training school. We consider your Doctor Barbour a great source of helpfulness and inspiration to the women."

Industrial School No. 4, 124 Sth St., Brooklyn, Miss Georgiana M. Butler in charge.

"Our girls are doing such splendid work under your teacher, Mrs. Williamson, that I feel it a duty and pleasure to let you know about it and to thank you again for your generous help."

State Charities Aid Association, Roswell Skeel, Jr., Secy. of Visiting Committee.

"It gives me great pleasure to tell you how unusually effective our committee feels that your free teacher has been at the Westchester Almshouse. She has not only produced an entirely new atmosphere amongst the women, but what is still more difficult she has won the interest and entire approval of the Staff in charge of the Almshouse. We earnestly hope you can see your way clear to continue her lessons."

Dietz Memorial Italian Settlement, 18 Jackson Street, Brooklyn, Mrs. George H. Decker, Secy.

"Our Women's Guild wish to express their sincere appreciation of your kindness in providing a teacher for the club of Italian girls. Your interest in the welfare of these girls and your gracious co-operation in the work of the Italian Settlement is gratefully acknowledged by the Guild."

Miss Spence's School Society, Miss Eleanor R. Townsend, Prest.

"I am writing to tell you how much we appreciate the fine work of Mr. Steigner in corrective physical exercises for our class of crippled children on the ferry-boat Southfield. The exercises have been most beneficial and the teacher is personally splendid with the children." Deaconess Home, 238 President Street, Brooklyn, Miss C. E. Holcombe.

"I feel exceedingly grateful, not only for the great help of the People's University Extension Society, but for the very pleasant way in which the help has been given. There has been so evident a spirit of real co-operation and interest which has meant much to one in the 'thick of the fight.'

Much of our work could not have been done at all without your help."

Public School No. 113, 7 Downing St., Miss Mary F. Maguire, Principal.

"My Parent's Meetings have been made infinitely more effective by the addresses of the Italian physicians furnished so generously by your Society.
Your teacher, Mr. Steigner, has done excellent work in correcting the speech defects of our children.

Woman's Auxiliary, N. Y. City Baptist Mission Society, Miss Grace Daland, Supt.

"We appreciate heartily the aid you have rendered us and the remarkable efficiency of the teachers you have sent."

St. George's Church, Flushing, N. Y., Mrs. P. V. C. Miller.

"I feel very strongly about the wonderfully good work that your Society is doing everywhere you send your trained teachers."

REPORT OF

The People's University Extension Society OF NEW YORK

Sixteenth Year, ending January 24th, 1914

he Sixteenth Year's Work

of our Society has just ended with satisfactory ogress shown in our classes throughout the city.

We have been able to carry on a large number of and specially important free classes in spite of the being badly handicapped by the financial desession, which has compelled many of our most enerous contributors to postpone temporarily their sual subscriptions.

We have been most seriously cramped for funds the st few months and have been forced to stop many asses because we lacked the necessary money to pay ir trained teachers to continue the lessons.

any of the Contributions to help support our free classes come from persons ring outside New York City and State, who have no rect interests in this city and whose gifts are therere proof of broad philanthropic sympathies. We we a surprising number of moderate donations sent from Massachusetts, Maine, Connecticut, Vermont, ew Hampshire, Rhode Island, New Jersey and ennsylvania.

One gentleman in Princeton, N. J., learned of our ork and wrote: "I approve most heartily of the work of your Free Classes in Manual Training. This seems to me a most sensible and efficient method of relieving distress and preventing crime. Please find enclosed my check. I am sorry that my present income and obligations combine to prevent my sending more "

may be broadly divided into the following departments:

First, Free lectures and lessons for tenement mothers and other women and girls, on the essentials of hygiene and sanitation, care of children, treatment of common accidents and prevention of disease, including tuberculosis and other infectious diseases.

Second, Free classes in all branches of manual training for poor boys of all races, giving them a taste for hand work and starting them in the way of practi-

Third, Free classes in all forms of domestic science and art, for poor girls throughout the city, fitting them to be good home-makers and at the same time enabling them to carn much larger wages than untrained girls can possibly command.

Fourth, Special free classes in corrective physical exercises and suitable hand work for crippled children, to improve their bodily condition and help them to

Fitth, Special free classes for girls in reformatories, giving practical training in dressmaking, millinery, embroidery, economic cooking, etc., thus fitting them to earn good wages when they are released from such institutions.

Sixth, Special free classes for the correction of stammering and other speech defects that seriously interfere with the progress of many otherwise bright and capable children.

Seventh, Special free classes for mentally defective children, who are taught attractive forms of hand work that stimulate and develop sluggish brains while the pupils are gaining skill in the use of their hands.

Eighth, Special free classes for the blind in simple forms of hand work like basketry, weaving, knitting and braiding rugs, that furnish interesting occupation and enable blind persons of all ages to earn money by making articles for sale.

All Our Work is Preventive in Nature

Our free lectures for poor mothers teach in simple, practical language how to prevent disease and keep their families healthy by means of fresh air, cleanliness and pure, economical food, properly prepared.

Our free classes in industrial training and domestic science and art prepare our pupils to become self-supporting, and thus protect them in a practical manner against poverty and crime.

People of All Races and Creeds

are equally welcome to share the benefits of our free classes and lectures in all the boroughs of the city. The principal races represented in our classes have been:

English	French	Polish	Swedish
German	Negro	Spanish	Swiss
Hebrew	Russian	Armenian	Norwegian
Italian	Austrian	Danish	Roumanian
Irish	Hungarian	Greek	Lithuanian
Scotch	Bohemian	Servian	Welsh

One Unique Feature

of our educational work lies in the fact that we carry the opportunity for free practical training in self-help, with all the inspiration that interesting classes in manual training and domestic science and art involve, right into the rooms of the people themselves, by giving free classes in their own settlements, clubs, missions, churches of all denominations, and other societies, wherever they are called for.

We thus make these local societies active centers through which we furnish the practical training most needed by their people.

How We Carry On So Many Classes

with such a small sum of money is a question repeatedly asked us every year.

The answer is that we constantly employ the principle of co-operation to cut down our expenses to the lowest point.

We are asked to help the work of hundreds of social settlements, clubs, poor churches of all creeds, missions and other local societies throughout the city, that have their own rooms and groups of children eager for instruction in manual and domestic training, but they have no money to employ trained teachers and it is impossible to get competent volunteers.

We co-operate with such poor societies by furnishing them trained teachers at our expense for classes that could otherwise have no instruction at all. If they are able to pay any part of the teacher's salary, we simply help them out by paying the remainder, so that they may have the class.

We Thus Save all the Expense

of renting rooms for our classes, and the cost of heating, lighting and janitors' fees at the hundreds of places in the city where we are furnishing teachers.

The entire amount paid by our Society for rent is $22 a month for the office where its executive work is carried on.

By thus sending our trained teachers to give free lessons in the rooms of poor local societies where the classes are most needed, but could not be carried on without our help, we do the largest amount of actual work possible with every dollar received by our Society.

Duplication of Effort

is also avoided by our system of starting no independent classes of our own, but sending our teachers only to local societies that actually have groups of young people wanting the instruction, but that lack the money to employ trained teachers without our co-operation.

The Division of Child Hygiene

of the Department of Health has asked us through' Miss Anna W. Kerr, superintendent of nurses, to give some special instruction to all the nurses in their division, and we are arranging to comply with the request immediately. We quote the letter which shows the value of the lectures we have given the nurses in the past on the correction of orthopedic defects.

My dear Mr. Whitney:

"Two or three years ago your Mr. Steigner gave the nurses working in the public schools some talks on correcting orthopedic defects, which were very valuable.

"I am anxious now to have him give talks in Manhattan and Brooklyn on breathing exercises. Do you think it would be possible to have him make such an arrangement? I will find the place for him and he will have about 100 nurses to instruct at each meeting. His clinics and teaching have always been most valuable to us.

Very truly yours,
ANNA W. KERR,
Supt. of nurses, Division of Child Hygiene."

Miss Kerr is also arranging to have her nurses all over the city come into Mr. Steigner's classes in corrective exercises, and watch his work so that they may learn as much of his methods as possible.

The Assistant District Superintendent of the Board of Health visited one of our free classes in corrective physical exercises and speech defects at the Jewish Recreation Rooms, 186 Chrystie Street, and was very enthusiastic about the value of the work in corrective exercises.

He asked permission to send in all his nurses in the district for about three weeks so that they could benefit by the instruction and know what to do with the children they come in contact with who need special help.

At the German Hospital

our free classes in corrective exercises for crippled children have again proved so valuable that Superintendent Louis Kortum writes as follows:

December 24th, 1913.

"It gives us pleasure to state that the efforts of your Society to benefit children suffering from physical defects, have been as fruitful in the last year as in previous ones. While the number attending the classes is not as large as we should like to see, still the quality of attention and instruction which the children get is of great benefit to them, and therefore we unhesitatingly express our appreciation of this to your Society and the teachers who carry out your instructions."

Doctor Henry Keller, Orthopedic Surgeon

at Roosevelt Hospital and New York Polyclinic Hospital writes our Society the following letter of appreciation and thanks for our free classes in corrective physical training in those hospitals:

My dear Mr. Whitney:

"Permit me to thank your Society through you for the good work that Mr. Steigner is doing in the Orthopedic Departments of the Roosevelt and New York Polyclinic hospitals—institutions with which I have the honor to be connected.

"Your efforts in behalf of the unfortunate cripples is of more lasting value than all other charities combined, while all other modes of charity tend to pauperize its recipients, your endeavor is to help those in need of it to become again self-supporting and useful members of society.

"Thanking you again for the good work and wishing your Society a merited financial success in order to be in a position to aid all those who are willing to help themselves, I beg to remain, very sincerely yours,

HENRY KELLER. M.D.''

The Darrach Home for Crippled Children

is one of the specially interesting places we have helped with free classes for many years.

Mrs. Katherine Mott, the matron, writes: "I am delighted to tell you what fine progress the children are making and how very much the help from your Society is appreciated by managers and children both. In the drawing class especially the children are doing remarkable work, in fact there are a couple of the boys in particular, who are showing quite wonderful talent, which has been so well drawn out by your painstaking teacher, who takes so much interest in them all."

A Thin, Eager Little Lad

with a badly crippled leg was so devoted to our manual training classes at The Dr. Ballard School for Cripples, that he never missed a day from his lessons.

One day it was decided to send him to the hospital for an operation, and little Alfred, wide-eyed and pathetic, asked the teacher: "Please can I come to school here again if I ain't a cripple any more?"

Dominick, a crippled boy of fifteen, is such an enthusiastic worker in manual training that he is often on hand in his wheel-chair half an hour before the class begins. Besides doing his work well in the class Dominick makes baskets after school hours which the school sells for him. In this way he is able to pay towards the cost of his wheel-chair and has bought warm leggings and a sweater for himself.

The Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled

at 321 East 42d Street has been given free classes in manual and domestic training for their crippled children since 1909.

Mr. O. H. Bartine, the superintendent writes us

January 14th, 1914:

"We feel that the lessons given by your teachers have been very helpful indeed. The carpentry class have made flower stands and tables for the classroom.

One boy after working in the carpentry class went to stay on his uncle's farm and tells us that he was able to do most of the repairing of fences and about the house, also building the chicken house and run. In the sewing class there has been so much improvement that the girls have become able to assist in the care of their clothing. This class has made quite a number of undergarments used in the wards. Many of the boys in the chair-caning class have completed their work and are able to cane chairs very well indeed. We sincerely appreciate your interest."

Any Person Who Knows a Crippled Child

who might be benefited by entering one of our free classes in Corrective Physical Training is invited to send us the name and address of the child so that we can arrange to have him put into the most conveniently located class we have in operation at the time.

Corrective Exercises for Tubercular Children

By request of the Woman's Auxiliary to the New York Department of Health Tuberculosis Clinics we are co-operating with them by sending our chief expert in corrective physical exercises to train the tubercular children in correct breathing, exercises for developing and strengthening the lungs, etc.

At the first lesson at the West Side Clinic there were

On the Day Tuberculosis Boat "Rutherford"

We have had very successful free classes in corrective physical training and cobbling for the benefit of the large number of children cared for daily on that boat. As soon as the children improve sufficiently in health they are discharged from the boat and new ones are taken on from the waiting list. Seventy-three children have been present at some of these lessons.

The older boys take keen delight in the cobbling work which they do very well indeed. Friends of the work made six of the boys presents of small cobbling outfits for their own use which has enabled them to do the work at home.

An Evening Class in Corrective Exercises

has been carried on for the benefit of working girls who were unable to enter any of our day classes. The girls have benefited greatly by the exercises. As an illustration, one of the girls who makes hat frames reports that the day following the class she never suffers from either backache, or headache, to which she is subject, and that some of the exercises she has learned have relieved her back so much that many days she can work all day long without pain, whereas before she could not stand the strain.

Another girl who is a saleswoman in a department store said of the exercises when asking to bring in a friend who was not strong, "they just make you feel wonderful."

At Public School 75, Manhattan

We are giving a free class in the correction of speech defects at the request of the principal, Mr. Joseph Chankin, who writes us the following letter under date of January 8th:

The lessons which your Society has been furnishing to my class of Speech Defectives have been productive of better results than I thought could be produced in the short space of four months. That so much has been accomplished, is due in large part to the skill and enthusiasm of Mr. Steigner, who is your visiting teacher, and in part also to the patience and willingness of one of my class teachers, Miss Olivia Leipner, who supplements his weekly lessons with two half-hour drills daily using his methods.

"Every one of the fifteen pupils in the class has shown marked improvement in proper breathing and in deliberateness in speech. They all evince an eager desire to be improved and made normal.

"In three cases, Harry Tauss, Isidore Levine and Samuel Finkelstein, all bad stammerers, there has been what seems to be a complete cure. These boys still take lessons in order that there may be no falling back to old habits of speech.

"Permit me to express my appreciation of the work your society is doing. It is certainly producing re-

Our Class in Correction of Speech Defects

at P. S. 35, Manhattan, was started at the request of Miss Emma Sylvester, principal. Under date of January 6th, Miss Sylvester writes us, "I am in receipt of your note requesting information about Mr. Steigner's work here in correcting speech defects. In response I would state that there is a noticeable gain in poise in the pupils as a result of the exercises and the individual pupils show marked improvement in speech.

"I feel that I myself have gained a great deal from

Mr. Steigner's work."

By Request of a Medical Inspector

of Schools for the Board of Health, Dr. M. M. Vinton, we have been giving lessons in Corrective Physical Exercises and the Correction of Speech Defects for children at P. S. 58, Woodhaven.

The doctor reports that the work has been of great value to the pupils belonging to the classes.

Our Classes in the Correction of Speech Defects

have been so successful that many more schools have been asking our help in this fundamentally important work. It is vitally important that speech defects should be cured when a child is young, because the stammerer, for example, is badly handicapped at home and has little chance in school and later on in business, for he is sure to be ridiculed and made to suffer intensely wherever he goes.

Many pupils in school have been called mentally defective because they had speech defects that discouraged them and prevented their proper mental development.

We have given 324 free lessons in the correction of speech defects during the year to classes averaging about thirty pupils each.

Mentally Defective Children

are naturally the most difficult of all classes to handle and the success of our lessons for these unfortunate little ones is therefore particularly gratifying and encouraging.

Great patience and sympathy are necessary in arousing and stimulating the sluggish minds of those mentally defective and the results obtained by our teachers are often surprising under the circumstances.

The Value of Training hand and Brain Together

is strikingly illustrated in every class we have given for the benefit of mentally defective children.

Boys so sluggish as to be considered almost hopeless by those who knew them, have become so interested and stimulated by chair-caning lessons that they became pretty good workmen in a few weeks. Our teachers find that some form of manual training will always appeal to even the worst case of defective mentality.

As such children gain skill in the use of their hands their brains begin to develop and many of our mentally defective pupils have become able to enter regular classes in the grammar schools.

Baskets Made by Blind People

in one of our free classes were so well made that the Society of Craftsmen asked to have some of the work shown at their exhibition.

Our Reformatory Classes for Girls

carried on in co-operation with Waverly House of the New York Probation and Protective Association are some of the most important and interesting classes we have. Miss Stella A. Miner, assistant secretary writes us: "We assure you of our appreciation of the great help that The People's University Extension Society has given in our class work. The girls at Waverly House look forward to the classes with great interest and considering the brief time they are with us they have gained greatly in patience, perseverance, neatness and economy, besides learning the regular foundation work in sewing and dressmaking. Our class in millinery has been a great success, as each girl is completing a hat made by herself from the foundation to the trimming."

The Following Reformatories for Girls

called on us for help during the year, and we cooperated with them by sending some of our best trained teachers to instruct their girls.

Doyer Street Mission
Florence Crittenton Mission
Home for Friendless Women and Children, Brooklyn

Teaching Tenement Mothers

the essentials of hygiene, sanitation, economic cooking and housekeeping, the care of children and prevention of disease, has been the largest branch of our work since our Society was organized in 1898.

The value of such training for poor women cannot be overestimated as it influences profoundly the health and prosperity of the whole family.

Care and Feeding of Babies
Fresh Air, Cleanliness and Exercise
Prevention of Children's Diseases Care of Eyes, Ears, Nose, Throat and Teeth
Home Nursing and Invalid Cooking
First Aid in Common Accidents
Care of Children in Winter
Food and Cooking for Health and Economy
Fireless Cooking

The Prevention of Deformities in Children

Physicians say that deformities in children could usually be entirely prevented if the mothers were sufficiently educated on the subject. What they need is special practical instruction by a competent doctor.

We send a physician to speak on this important subject to mother's meetings in any part of the city where such addresses are asked for.

A Striking Demonstration

of the keen interest mothers have in learning how to care for their children occurred on a bitterly cold and windy winter's day this season when more than 600 were present at a mother's meeting in one of the large public schools to hear one of our doctors give a free lecture on the Prevention of Children's diseases. The women ask a good many questions about special points after the lecture and much additional valuable information is brought out in that way adapted to the immediate needs of the mothers.

The Care and Repair of Clothing

One of the most practical and useful lessons to teach tenement mothers is how to utilize wornout clothing of adults by making it over for the children.

The amount of waste in most tenement families is large enough in proportion to income to be a very serious problem. Useful material of all kinds is constantly thrown away because the mothers are ignorant of the best methods of utilizing it.

Our teachers give a large amount of special instruction every year on the making over of old garments of all kinds, so that nothing need be wasted.

Great Need for More Carpentry Classes

The success of our free carpentry classes has been so remarkable the past year as to furnish a striking proof of the eagerness of the wildest street boys to learn to work with tools if given the opportunity.

A carpentry class, led by a good teacher who has the gift of handling boys, never fails to win any "bad boy" away from the lure of the street gangs if he once attends a lesson. The natural charm of making things with tools appeals to the roughest boys, and the more turbulent a boy is the better workman he makes because he puts into his work all the energy and force that made him a "terror" in the street.

The Leader of a Gang of Street Boys

who was the "terror" of his neighborhood some years ago soon became the best workman in one of our carpentry classes and attended our free lessons several terms until he learned to do fine cabinet work. He is now a highly paid workman in a cabinet factory instead of being a confirmed gangster and menace to the city, as he would have been without the powerful reformative influence of our manual training classes.

Twenty-six New Boys Appeared

at the second lesson of one of our carpentry classes, in addition to the regular membership of fourteen, and begged to be taken into the class. There was unfortunately no chance for them, as the rooms were full with the regular membership of fourteen already enrolled. These twenty-six boys stated that ten more of their friends also wanted to join the class, making thirty-six new boys eager to learn carpentry. This was enough boys for three more classes and we should have organized the new classes for them at once if we had had the necessary money to pay the teacher.

We Could Not Start the Classes

because we lacked funds to pay the teacher's salary and the settlement that asked us to give them the classes was too poor to pay the teacher.

It is a shame that with the millions of money spent for trivial and useless purposes in New York we should lack funds to furnish important, practical classes in manual training to street boys who appeal to us to give them a chance to learn hand work. Such classes protect these boys from becoming possible gangsters and gunmen, and thus benefit the city vitally.

Little Italy House, 146 Union Street

is situated in one of the most neglected parts of Brooklyn where the need for attractive free classes in manual and domestic training is most urgent.

Our Society has been helping Little Italy House for years and is now giving them two free carpentry classes which are so successful that the teacher, Mr. Champion, finds a lot of new boys on hand at every lesson appealing to be admitted to the class. The membership is already so full that no more can be taken in and lack of funds prevents the starting of more free classes there at present.

Dr. Jane E. Robbins, the headworker, writes us: "The boys like the carpentry and their teacher very much. For our part we would be thankful to have you give us the carpentry every day, for when the youngsters are not with us they are usually in the hands of the police."

The Social Service Department

of Bellevue Hospital has asked our co-operation in giving free carpentry lessons to boys from families they have been treating for tuberculosis at the hospital.

Miss Sara E. Shaw, the nurse in charge of the Social Service writes: "We thank you for your assistance in the carpentry class for boys. The class is well attended and each boy is doing excellent work. The mothers are much interested in the convenient articles which their boys bring home. We have selected the most wayward boys from the most needy homes. Your teacher has a splendid influence over the boys, and they are all enthusiastic over the work."

One of Our Carpentry Pupils

complained of being so tired that he wanted to be excused from the class so he could go home and go to bed. Our teacher questioned the lad and found that he was employed by a baker and was obliged to work from 5 a.m. to 4 p.m. The teacher talked the matter over with the manager of the house where the class was held, and easier employment was found for the boy. He is now able to attend the class and enjoy the full benefit of it and he is naturally grateful to our teacher for the improvement in his condition.

Our Bellevue Carpentry Boys Build a Stage

The nurses and doctors of Bellevue Clinic took part in a comedy sketch for charity and the boys of our carpentry class connected with Bellevue contributed their share by building the stage for the performance.

The stage was twelve by twenty feet in size and was built of automobile packing cases, made in sections, directly from plans drawn by our instructor, Mr. Hummell. All parts such as horses, braces and flooring are numbered so that the stage can be taken apart and set up again when needed.

2,520 Lessons in Carpentry

were given in our free classes the past year and a great many more would have been given if our Society had been able to secure contributions to pay more teachers.

We Help Five Points Mission

with a number of industrial training classes every year and the work done by the pupils in this famous old criminal center is most satisfactory.

Rev. Dr. Belcher, superintendent of the mission writes: "We have been very much gratified this season both at the service rendered by your teachers and the progress of the pupils.

"In the carpentry class the boys have 'turned out' some very creditable work, much more than heretofore.

"The shoe-making class is doing a good part of our regular mending, and the printing class has 'set up' and 'struck off' post cards, programs, etc., that we should have been obliged to send to the printer.

"Your teachers have rendered most satisfactory service and we shall be very glad to have them continue another half year if you can help us to keep them."

Hudson Guild, 438 West 27th Street

is one of the settlements that we have been co-operating with for many years. We quote briefly from a letter just received from the Guild.

"The three classes for which you have been kindly supplying teachers this winter have been conducted very satisfactorily for us.

"The sewing classes for children on Tuesdays and Fridays under Mrs. Pendleton have improved very much during the season and we are very much pleased with what has been accomplished both in the sewing work itself and in the general spirit among the children. The dressmaking class on Monday evenings for older working girls has gone well and the girls seem much interested in the work. We thank you for your aid in our classwork."

The Italian House of Five Points

has had our co-operation in carrying on industrial classes for several seasons. The older girls are trained in power-machine sewing and learn to do such good work in making garments of all kinds that manufacturers who know the school are glad to give them employment as soon as they are ready to begin work.

In our printing classes at the same place the boys are doing excellent work in typesetting, proofreading and presswork.

Mrs. Louise E. Weygandt, principal of this school, writes us: "We realize more and more how valuable the help of your Society is and as the boys and girls leave us for paying positions we feel most thankful that with your help we have been able to start them better fitted to earn their own living than we otherwise could."

About Seven Hundred Garments

were made by the girls of our power-machine sewing class this season in addition to other work. Out of a register of forty-seven pupils there was a full attendance nearly every day. Many of the pupils have gone from the power-machine class into good paying positions.

The Barat Settlement House

is one of the most active Catholic social centers in New York and has had our co-operation in class work for several seasons.

Miss M. Gannon, one of the managers, writes: "We are very much pleased with your teacher's work in the classes in sewing and economic cooking. The girls are greatly interested and have made marked improvement in every way."

Successful Five-Cent Supper Clubs

One of our cooking teachers, Mrs. Florence K. Griswold, writes: "It seems to me that the most important thing that has come to my notice is the success of the five-cent supper club we are having in Willow Place Chapel. The junior girls are becoming better marketers. Every week they bring in a list of the food we are to use with the prices at the various stores and we are able to serve a wholesome supper for the children consisting of a meat or meat substitute, vegetable, bread and a simple dessert with cocoa.

"The senior girl's club are also cooking a supper for the same price, coming directly from work to the class. They are definitely preparing themselves for housewives, several of them coming because they expect to be married in the course of the year. I feel particularly encouraged with these classes because they are, so far as food is concerned, self-supporting."

At New York Colored Mission

one of the boys in our carpentry class was so bad he had to be sent home on more than one occasion for upsetting the class. When he finally learned the lesson that he could not stay in the carpentry class and have the pleasure of making things with tools unless he behaved himself, he gave up his pranks and settled down into a very good worker and became as great a help as before he had been a hindrance.

The Colored Orphan Asylum

on West 261st Street has two very successful carpentry classes supplied by our Society. The Superintendent, Frank W. Barber, writes, "the lessons which are being given here in carpentry by your teacher are very satisfactory. We are grateful for what you are doing to help our work."

The Henrietta Evening Trade School for Negroes

is one of the most interesting industrial schools we are helping, owing to the specially difficult problems they have to meet because of the nature of the people they are dealing with and the character of the locality where they are working.

We help every season in carrying on classes in a dozen or more subjects in manual and domestic training at this school and the general results are very encouraging.

One of the Worst Boys

in our chair-caning and basket-making class at Henrietta Trade School has improved wonderfully in conduct and from being what the teacher called "a veritable terror" he has become a good, steady worker and has earned considerable money by caning chairs for the people of the neighborhood.

A West Indian Negro Girl

who entered one of our evening classes in housework without any training whatever, became so good a housekeeper she secured a situation that she still holds, and she continues to come to the evening school to get training in other subjects like dressmaking and millinery. This girl never missed a lesson in four years, and her employer wrote thanking the head teacher for the fine training her maid had been given. The girl has had to take entire charge of the household affairs when her mistress has been away ill for months at a time.

The New Social Centers

established in public school buildings have asked us to co-operate by furnishing trained teachers for classes of the young people who wish practical training in some branches of domestic science and art. We are giving them such classes.

Our Cobbling Classes

have done excellent work during the year. The boys mend and patch their own shoes, putting on new soles and heels as needed. Then from home come their sisters', brothers', mothers' and fathers' shoes, many of them torn almost beyond redemption, but they are all carefully mended and taken to the principal by the proud little workers to show what amateur cobblers can do.

In some cases our cobbling pupils do practically all the shoe repairing for the institutions they are connected with.

We gave 240 free cobbling lessons during the year.

Our Cobbling Class

at St. Phebe's Mission is used as an "honor class" and only boys who have been most faithful in other classes are allowed to enter. There is a waiting list of boys who are a few marks short of promotion and who are working hard to get into the cobbling class. The parents of the cobbling boys are greatly pleased with that class as it is a great saving to them in shoes and they are all people in poor circumstances.

The Brooklyn Orphan Asylum

has been helped by us with classes for several years. Mrs. Mary J. Messerole, corresponding secretary and chairman of School Work, writes, December 22d, 1913:

"I trust you will understand that our Board feels under deep obligation to your Society for the valuable philanthropic services rendered to us. We hope the New Year will bring you the prosperity you deserve. Our principal speaks of the work of your teachers with unstinted praise."

Physical Training Classes

people would suppose possible.

A remarkable example of this is the case of a mentally defective child who had also speech defects. This boy was a member of our free class in corrective physical exercises for a group of mentally defective children. Before our teacher had time to give this boy any special work for his speech defects he began to show marked improvement in speech, purely as a result of the training he had been getting in breathing and physical exercises for the development and strengthening of the body.

3,564 lessons in physical training were given during the year with an average attendance of more than twenty pupils at each lesson.

The Value of Fresh Air and Deep Breathing

is strongly emphasized by our physical training teachers in each lesson. Our teachers insist on having the rooms properly ventilated wherever the classes are held, thus training the pupils in the habit of having sufficient fresh air for the requirements of health. We learn from the secretary of a Girls' Friendly Society that one of her girls, who is a member of our physical training class, has become such an advocate of fresh air that she persuaded the other girls in her place of business to open the windows wide at lunch hour and to practice the breathing and physical exercises she had learned in our class.

Another girl in the same class whose knee had been giving her much trouble found immediate relief by following the special advice of our teacher.

All the Branch Libraries

of the New York Public Library, thirty-six in number, have been supplied by our Society with free copies of our Health Hints for general distribution.

Free copies of the leaflets in English, German, Italian, Hebrew and Bohemian were placed on the librarian's desk in each library to be taken by readers who desired them.

That these leaflets were read and appreciated was shown by the letters we received asking for additional copies to give to friends.

The Young Men's Christian Associations

throughout this city and many of those in other large cities in the United States and Canada send to us for copies of our Health Hints in various languages. They find the leaflet specially valuable in their classes for foreigners, as is shown by the following letter received from the West Side Young Men's Christian Association, 318 West 57th Street. Mr. Harold W. Rudolph, registrar, writes us:

"Will you kindly let us have for distribution in our class in Naturalization for Coming Americans, some fifty copies each of your valuable pamphlet on 'Health Hints' in English, German, Italian, Yiddish and Bohemian?

"We should highly appreciate your generous work of co-operation."

Advice about Organizing Classes

It is a common mistake made by inexperienced social workers to think that all that is needed to have a successful class is to make up their own minds that a certain group of young people need instruction in some particular branch of manual training or domestic science or art, and to secure a competent teacher and announce the day and hour for the class to begin.

When very few pupils attend the first lesson, as is usually the case in such circumstances, the manager hastily and unwisely decides that the young people don't care to learn, whereas, the trouble lies in the fact that she has gone the wrong way about starting it.

The Best Way to Organize any Class

is to talk the subject over with the children in advance, show them specimens of the beautiful and useful things that are made in such classes and thus get them interested and create a desire in their minds to learn to make such things themselves.

When the children have become interested in the proposed work, the manager should explain that she will arrange to have such a class started if enough children enroll as members and promise to attend the lessons regularly, to make it worth while to secure a trained teacher.

An enrollment paper should be prepared, or can be obtained from us on request, and all the children who wish to join the class should sign. They should be made to understand that it is their own class, and they will be responsible for its success. For ordinary subjects it is desirable that there should be fifteen enrolled, as that will insure a probable average attendance of a dozen members, which number can be efficiently taught by any competent teacher.

The Best Outfit

for any elementary manual training class is the smallest and simplest collection of tools that will enable the pupils to do really efficient work, and such outfits are inexpensive.

It has been thought by many heads of societies that they could not possibly give their children the benefit of manual training because the outfit of tools and materials was too expensive.

The same mistake has sometimes been made by highly trained teachers themselves, who thought, because they were accustomed to working with an elaborate and expensive outfit, that good work could not be done without it.

The Best Plan of Work

for all societies that are carrying on classes in manual training or domestic science and art is to arrange their subjects in educational sequence as far as possible so that their pupils may develop the utmost skill and efficiency in whatever work they do.

While they cannot usually maintain regular trade schools, they may in a measure work towards the same end by co-ordinating their classes with such an end in view.

For example, it is often possible to carry the girls along from elementary sewing to garment making and practical dressmaking, embroidery, millinery and economic cooking, so that the girls become accomplished housekeepers, and are also fitted to get situations at good wages if they have to go out to work.

The Influence of Our Work Broadens

constantly in unexpected ways, as so much of it is initiative in its nature. We often start classes in manual training or domestic science or art in neglected tenement districts where no such work has been done before, and carry them on until the little society for which we have been giving the classes succeeds in getting some persons of means to assume the expense or part of it, and thus relieve us of the burden. As soon as the expense of such work is taken from our Society we are able to do just so much more elsewhere and thus continue the work of establishing centers for free manual and domestic training where they are most needed.

In this way scores of successful industrial training classes carried on by various institutions in this city owe their existence to our having organized and carried them on until they demonstrated their success in teaching self-help and drawing children away from the streets.

A Charity Ball

was given by a dozen young ladies, assisted by Mrs. Florence L. Patterson, at the Hotel Majestic, March 25th, 1913, and the net receipts, ninety-five dollars, were sent to our Society to help support our free classes.

The names of the young ladies who have generously helped this Society for several years are as follows:

Miss Agnes Elkin
Miss Alice Muller
Miss Irene Gerken
Miss Rosa Morgan
Miss Dorothy Patterson
Miss Dorothy Masterson
Miss Margaret Case

Miss Lucy Elkin
Miss Virginia Geddes
Miss Mildred Dockstader
Miss Adeline Carreau
Miss Marie Patterson

Regular University Extension Courses

will be supplied by our Society on any desired subject in literature, history, science or art. Such courses include a series of from six to ten systematic lectures, accompanied by class discussions, written exercises and regular examinations.

Gifts of Cloth and Other Material

for use in our free classes in sewing, dressmaking, embroidery, millinery, crochet, etc., will be gladly received as many of the pupils in our classes are too poor to buy the necessary materials, even where our Society pays the entire cost of the teacher's salary.

Orders May Be Sent to Us

for baskets of all kinds, rugs, crochetted baby shoes, hats and jackets and ladies' vests to be made by pupils in our classes.

Our Work is Supported by Voluntary Contributions

and gifts of any amount will be appreciated, as we have a great many appeals every year for more free classes that we are unable to start because we lack the money to pay the necessary trained teachers.

Twenty-five dollars supports free lessons for a dozen normal children, or for six crippled children, for three months. $100 supports such a class for an entire vear.

Checks to aid our work should be drawn to the order of this Society and mailed to the Secretary and Treasurer, J. Eugene Whitney, 105 East 17th Street, New York City.

BOOKLETS PUBLISHED BY

by Miss Florence K. Johnson, is a brief summary of recent child-study and educational methods. It contains a description and illustrations of primary work, which is based on modern principles, and has been used with success. The booklet has thirty pages, is bound in paper, and the price is ten cents.

Mrs. Woolman, Director of the Department of Domestic Art at Teachers' College, New York City, writes:—"I shall be delighted to suggest the use of it to my students."

by Miss Florence K. Johnson, may be bought for the use of missions or institution cooking classes, at five cents a copy, or six cents if postage is needed; also a marketing list will be furnished to teachers of such classes without charge. The regular price of the book is ten cents. It has thirty-six pages, and is bound in paper-covered linen.

"HEALTH HINTS"

in English, German, Yiddish, Italian or Bohemian, will be furnished in any quantity free of charge for distribution in Greater New York. A few sample copies will be sent free to those outside the city, or any number ordered will be furnished for $1.25 a thousand copies, to cover the cost of printing. Cost of expressage extra.

"THE CARE OF CHILDREN"

by Dr. Maria M. Vinton, contains chapters on: Feeding of Babies and Young Children, Fresh Air, Exercise and Amusements for Children, Bathing and Home Cleanliness, Common Accidents, Burns, Faintness, Fits, etc., Care of the Skin, and Care of the Eyes, Ears and Throat. A few copies will be sent free.
